WE NOMINATE

Suzanne Burrey and Hugh Abraham Johnston, one of the Princeton Community's most stimulating and imaginative couples, who at a time when "all are making films" must be numbered among the new "breed of cinematographers." In an era when each year "non-theatrical films" outnumber full-feature films by a margin of 6,000 to 200, the Johnstons in their late 30's are earning recognition as producers of prize-winning films in national film festivals, as participants in educational television programs, and as professionals as capable of producing two-minute "quickies" for the New York World's Fair as they are of documenting overseas trade missions for the widely separated Governors of Oregon and New Jersey.

In a very real sense the Johnstons, the parents of three daughters, including 9-year old twins, are the progenitors of a new "cottage industry" in Princeton. Not infringing in any way on Township Zoning restrictions, and without benefit of any employees, husband and wife together, both graduates of the "Whirl of Madison Avenue," have converted the dining and living rooms of their Valley Road home into a combination studio, cutting room and office where they competently and quietly handle the entire production of films from research and writing through direction, filming and editing, and finally, projection on white painted walls with no screen necessary.

Over the span of three years these natives of Pittsburgh, Pa., have completed a half-dozen films which have won wide exposure. "Parents Are Teachers, Too," produced for the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity, carried off the highest award in its category in the 1957 Columbus Film Festival, while the bewitching "A Different Childhood," also sponsored by the OEO with the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs and the N. J. Education Association, won a certificate of merit. In recent weeks two of their works, including "Americans from Jungaria," a study of the Kalmuk Mongol community near Freehold, have been featured on Educational Channel 13.

Both migrated from Pittsburgh to Manhattan and met again while working for the magazine, "Industrial Design." Hugh, a member of the Class of 1951 at Dartmouth and trained as an interpreter of Russian in the Army Language School, was a photographer-writer and Suzanne, holding degrees from the Universities of Chicago and Pittsburgh and Radcliffe College, a writer. Later both free-lanced, Suzanne as art critic for "Arts" magazine and Hugh writing film scripts, and both eventually became alumni of "On Film," a Princeton-based company which has since disappeared from the Mercer County scene.

The success of their newly released film, "When New Jersey Went to Market," sponsored by the N. J. Department of Economic Development and now catching the eye of the U.S. Department of Commerce, bodes well for the wide variety of topics the Johnstons are planning to tackle. High on their table of priorities is a film essay on a "prototype community" in rapidly urbanizing New Jersey. They have selected near-by Franklin Township and are in the midst of chronicling how a typical municipality, once in the midst of a semi-rural area, faces up to the challenges and ever-mounting problems presented by the crushing impacts of megalopolis.

For their contributions to "direct cinema," an integral part of the present-day revolution in human communication: for insisting in this highly impersonal 20th Century that "whatever we do we can be ourselves;" for seeking to capitalize upon the medium of film in the same way poets, dramatists and novelists have used the printed word;" they are our nominees as

"NO" TO BUDGET
 Municipalities to Act. By a narrow margin, Princeton's school budget was defeated again Tuesday night. Borough Council and Township Committee now have the legal responsibility, under state law, for ranking up the school district's 1968-69 budget.

Finance chairman of both municipal bodies will meet this Thursday night with the finance committee of the school board to begin work. They have ten days under the law.

Their findings will be announced at a public hearing to be held next Monday, February 26, at 8 p.m., at Princeton High School. The double defeat for the budget is believed to be the first ever recorded in Princeton.

The finance chairman of Borough Council is Charles Corfathi. The finance chairman of Township Committee is William L. Wilson, has disqualified himself because his firm leases to the school board the C.I.T. temporary classroom building of the high school. Committee member Burton E. Feslin will sit in his place.

equipment, "yes," 1,145; "no," 1,229. Absentee votes are included.

A turn-out of exactly 2,400 voters defeated the current expense budget by 130 votes, the land-building equipment budget by 84.

District One in the Borough, and District Three, Five and Nine in the Township, voted "yes" on the budget. District One is in the University Place - Princeton Seminary area and includes many faculty homes, but it also includes part of the so-called "gold coast" of the Borough's western section.

District Eight, also a part of that western section, and an area of opposition to the pipeline, showed 59 fewer "no" votes in current expenses than in the previous election, and 38 fewer "no" votes in land-building equipment. Its voters cast the same number of "yes" votes in the first category two weeks ago, and 41 fewer in the second.

Only 12 voters went to the polls in the Borough's District Six, in the John-Witherspoon area. They voted the budget down by 84 in both sections. In the Borough as a whole, 786 people voted compared to 1,865 two weeks ago. In the

"TRANSCO" NO!
 So Says Township. "This is a clear danger to the whole community," asserted a neighbor of Transcontinental Pipeline on Monday night at Township Committee.

Committee agrees. It will send its attorney, Gordon Griffin, to a Public Utilities Commission hearing in Trenton on March 4 to protest Transco's plan for adding a second and larger pipe to the gas line it already has running through Princeton Township (see map). Safety is the only matter the P.U.C. can legally consider at this hearing.

Mr. Griffin began his assignment by asking the P.U.C. to postpone the hearing so he can prepare his case and line up experts in engineering, geology and related fields.

Mercer County may join legal forces with the Township. This Wednesday afternoon, State Senator Richard Coffee, still chairman of the Mercer County Park Commission although he is no longer a Freeholder, is scheduled to meet with Township Mayor Carl C. Schafer and Administrator Joseph R. Nini, and with James Suyen who belongs to both the Park Commission and the Township Open Space Commission.

Originally, a representative of Transco was to have been invited to this meeting, but he had been asked to tell what his firm plans to do with the 46 acres on Herndon Road he bought last fall from the estate of Claire Levine.

However, Transco is the uninvited guest at Wednesday's meeting. The Levine property, which the County wanted for park land but couldn't afford, will undoubtedly be discussed. But the question of joint legal action, raised at a Monday night's meeting by Mr. Suyen, may well come up too.

And a representative of Congressman Frank Thompson rose in Committee Monday night to say that Congressman

Thompson will help in any way he can.

In fact, one resident told committee that Mr. Thompson has already conferred with the chairman of the Federal Power Commission, and has reported that, while the F.P.C. has authorized Transco's project in Princeton's area, it has not specified an exact route.

3-Way Attack. Opposition to Transco comes from three sources: the 70 property owners who live within the 100-foot limit of the proposed new line and who have been informed legally of the March 4 hearings by the F.P.C., are concerned about the safety of homes and families and the preservation of property values; the Township government believes the safety factor is serious enough to warrant official municipal objection; Mercer County and the Township also are disturbed about conservation and what Mr. Sayen called on Monday night, "the rape of our natural resources."

The Stony Brook-Millstone Watersheds Association and the county's Herkstown Woods Committee of citizen conservationists are also opposed for ecological and conservation reasons.

Meet an Expert. When Transco informed property owners that it planned to lay a 42-inch pipe next to the old (1950) 36-inch line, they would need a new 85-foot right-of-way in place of the 50-foot one. It encountered to its surprise something almost as hard as the database it will have to blast to lay its line: the expertise and determination of a retired engineer, Roland C. Bergh of 20 Hilltop Drive.

The Bergh home is within sweeping distance of the pipeline. Mr. Bergh, a graduate aeronautical engineer for 30 years, presented to Committee Monday night a five-page fact study of the pipeline, its methods of operation, and the lack of Federal supervision on the safety of a community.

Mr. Bergh points out that when Transco laid its present 36-inch line in its present 50-foot right of way, the northern part of the Township, including the Hillcrest area where he lives, was almost uninhabited. It is, of course, a very, very rocky area and the rock is diabase, which is just about as hard as any rock that ever faced down a stick of dynamite.

To lay its new 42-inch line, Mr. Bergh says, Transco would have to blast through the diabase, within 10 feet of less, of the present 36-inch line and its load of gas under 600 pounds of pressure.

Mr. Bergh has two alternative proposals: run the new 42-inch pipe north from its present terminal on the Great Road property of John Winant, ("Country Farm") and parallel to the present 36-inch line, then along Somerset County, then along the center of the forthcoming 195 and from there, cross-country, to take the 36-inch line out and replace it with a new line even bigger than the proposed one—a single 48-inch line, which would have the same total capacity as the 30 plus the 42. This would mean that the present 50,000-cu ft of gas would not have to be enlarged to 85 feet. During construction, gas could be diverted through existing interconnections of other gas transmission companies.

Safety? Present safety is hard to put in Mr. Bergh's analysis. There are no Federal safety codes that apply to natural gas. The state's F.P.C. wasn't given jurisdiction over pipeline safety until 1952. Three to four years after Transco put its 1949-50 line through Princeton Township.

The F.P.C. does have power to keep an eye on the inspection and repair of this line, however. Mr. Bergh wrote the F.P.C. on February 16 asking him to send him details of the original construction, materials and pressures used when the line was built in '49-50, and to tell him what inspection and maintenance procedures are followed now. So far, he has had no reply.

Mr. Bergh emphasizes that he isn't accusing Transco of using unsafe practices in 1952. But as an engineer, he knows that in 18 years, tremendous technological improvements have been made: the kind of steel used, methods of fabrication, corrosion protection, machines to handle heavy pipe, and especially, the use of radiographic inspection are among the improvements listed by Mr. Bergh that couldn't possibly have been part of 1950 construction picture.

Mr. Bergh has also assembled quite a dossier of accidents along pipelines: 29 persons killed and 97 injured in 15 years; 17 killed in explosion of a 21-year-old pipe; 30 explosions in 30-inch pipe in Pennsylvania in 1950; the same line as the one installed in Princeton by the same company.

Preserve the Land. On the conservation side, Mr. Sayen gets his finger on the map where 100 acres of what he calls "prime land" would be bisected by the line. This includes about 80 acres of the county's Herkstown Woods plus about 20 owned as "Open Space" by the Township. A spokesman for Transco has been quoted as saying that this land is "good for nothing else—it's just rocks and woods."

Mr. Griffin believes that, because this is publicly-owned land, it may provide some firm legal ground. The Township can make a case for its land in the northeast as public property in public ownership, land which would be irreparably damaged if the new line goes through by that route. Mr. Griffin explains. Then, presumably the burden would be on Transco to show why they must have that particular route.

The Township might suggest other routes, Mr. Griffin said, however, he added that if this should be the only reasonable route Transco has, the public lands' argument wouldn't be the company from blasting through.

Richard Thorsell, executive director of the Watersheds Association, said Monday night that the association had made a study of the ecological damage that could be done by pipeline. He told Mr. Griffin he could produce experts who could testify in court.

It was said again Monday night that, under the 1938 National Gas Act, private companies like Transco have the power of eminent domain and, if they can take the land they need for the "public good"—and are not bound by local zoning codes.

Mr. Sayen, said that Senator Coffee was told by Transco's spokesman about 18 months ago that the company had made absolutely no plans to take its enlarged line through Princeton Township. (The Federal Power Commission told Congressman Thompson it granted approval on May 19, 1966.)

"Today they have no plans," he said, "and the gloomily, 'tomorrow they'll want 60 feet'."

SOTO STILL FREE

Police Press Release. Despite massive efforts by Princeton, County and Federal police officers, the suspected killer of bank teller Mrs. Kirsti Pfister remains at large, more than a week after his murder.

"We believe he's down the coop and is in New York," said Chief Peter J. McCohan at his press conference Tuesday in commenting on the suspect, Jose Soto, alias Jose Higinio Soto Maton. "Something will break shortly," continued Chief McCohan. "He can't go too far." The Princeton Bank and Trust Company is offering a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and apprehension of Soto.

Chief McCohan reported that police and F.B.I. are continuing to follow all leads and bits of information. He estimated that his department has received some 25 calls from all sources offering tips.

"Some are good, some are from people who think they are seen him or remember something about him," he said. "We check them all out."

Some Details Withheld. He added that they had received three or four "good ones" over the weekend but declined to say how productive they were or if an arrest were imminent for fear of jeopardizing the case. "We can't give out any information," he said.

For the Borough, Detective Robert MacAvonia is following up most of the leads, assisted by Detective John J. Bellow. Chief McCohan reported that Lt. Michael Carnevale had spent the entire weekend on the case, working until 11 o'clock Saturday night.

"Senseless Killing." Prevented from speaking in detail, he was unable to say, for example, whether a gun shot left behind in a Lincoln Court apartment matched the bullet that killed Mrs. Pfister. Chief McCohan did say: "My only comment is that this was a senseless killing."

He pointed out that the only way Soto could have obtained any money from the walkup window where Mrs. Pfister worked was for her to give it to him. It was impossible for him physically to reach the money. Killing her only thwarted any chance he had of succeeding.

"Our security was top notch. We had a man on foot patrol with a walkie talker a block away. Unfortunately, it took him a few minutes to find out what had happened. We had a man on a motorcycle who was the second to arrive and we had two police cars on patrol, one of which was there in a very few minutes," he said.

"In other words, we had maximum coverage for a town this size," he continued. "We're doing everything we can to prevent this type of thing, but the only way to stop it completely is to put a cop in every store and every bank in Princeton — and we just don't have that kind of manpower," he said.

More to Come? In answer to a question whether a dramatic crime like the bank holdup seems to trigger other criminal acts, such as the Mule Book Store robbery a few hours later, McCohan replied: "We seem to be getting our share ever since the Palmer Square hold-up."

"Apparently violent crime is moving into the suburbs. We're doing everything we can to keep it to a minimum."

Barred Saturday. The funeral for Mrs. Pfister was held Saturday in the Orgristown Reform Church, the Rev. Robert A. Jones officiating. Burial was in Orgristown Cemetery. Memorial gifts may be made to the Orgristown Reformed Church.

Her alleged killer was born in Puerto Rico in October, 1938. Chief McCohan said that as far as he can ascertain, Soto's mother is dead and his father is still living in Puerto Rico. Soto served a prison term on the island for attempted murder and robbery.

He was married last year in Princeton and moved with his wife to Queens, N.Y. Soto is wanted by New York City police for violation of parole and jumping bail in connection with a non-support charge filed by his wife. Described as a drifter, he had reportedly worked for three months last year as a busboy at the Nassau Inn and for a week at the Princeton Inn.

Considering what police believe was his activity here after the shooting, it is remarkable that Soto is still free. Apparently it is a tale of heart-breaking "near misses" for his pursuers.

He was reconstructed by police, they believe this was the sequence of Soto's movements on the day of his killing. He arrived here by bus from New York about noon. (The murder was reported at 1:29).

He first visited friends in an apartment at 7 Lincoln Court and left when they did before the holdup. Immediately after the shooting, he returned to the apartment, about two blocks away from the bank and asked one of the two men, a barber, to shave his head.

Around 4 p.m. he went to the Princeton Inn to ask for a room, he was refused money and told that the man who did the hiring was not in.

Returned to Inn. He returned around 7 and was told by the chef that there were no jobs. The chef later called police. The man had disappeared by the time F.B.I. officials searched the predominantly Puerto Rican employees quarters. Soto was not seen again.

Ironically, Township police who were aiding in the search had "cracked out" the fan earlier. But because of a change in shifts at 4, there was a break in surveillance at the time Soto appeared.

The suspected murder weapon was found around 6:30 p.m. when Soto friends found under their bathroom sink in the Lincoln Court apartment. They notified police.

Soto is believed to be armed with another gun. The F.B.I., in a bulletin, said that he should be considered extremely dangerous.

DRIVER IS KILLED

In Mercer Road Collision. A 37-year-old driver of a Princeton school system was killed Friday afternoon when his foreign sports car was involved in a collision on Mercer Road near Galloway. Pronounced dead on arrival Princeton Hospital by Dr. Leonard Berry was George Vivacqua, who lived in Levittown, Pa. His nine-year-old son, George Jr., a passenger in the car, was uninjured. "He didn't have a scratch on him," said Sgt. Anthony Nini of the Township police who is conducting the investigation.

Police identified the other driver as Mrs. Mary Squitieri, 48, of 403 Mount Lucas Road. She was taken to Princeton Hospital for treatment of bruises and released. She was alone in her car. Police said that Mr. Vivacqua had remained inside the car.

The entire side of the Vivacqua car was torn open by the collision. Police described it as a "left hook." They added that Mr. Vivacqua had remained inside the car.

The accident took place at 3 in the afternoon under clear, sunny skies. The roadway was dry and arrow straight where the collision occurred.

The initial investigation was conducted by P.I. Howard Sweeney and P.I. John Hanover. Sgt. Nini said that the findings of his investigation when complete will be presented to a grand jury — as accidents.

Mr. Vivacqua was a former teacher at the Nassau Street School and guidance counselor at John Witherspoon School. More recently he worked for the school's Special Services program.

YOUTH STEALS CAR

Arrested 6 Miles Later. Cooperation between Borough and Township police Friday resulted in the arrest of a Trenton youth who admitted he had allegedly stolen a car on Nassau Street.

In Borough Court Monday night, the charge of grand larceny against 20-year-old Steven S. Sweeney, a former Princeton resident, was waived by his attorney and he was held for action by the Grand Jury. Police Chief Peter J. McCohan reported that Silius had been charged with grand larceny because the value of the 1960 model, was more than $2,000. Silius had spent the weekend in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $500 bail.

Police were alerted at 5:10 Friday evening when the car's owner, Mrs. William Phillips, 33 Wilton Street, told them she saw a young Negro with a goatee steal her car that was parked in front of Saks at 46

DOGS ON THE LOOSE

P.T.O. Protests. The Township's dog control officer, James Dougherty, will be assigned to the Riverside School area full time until it is cleared of dogs.

Committee decided Monday night that Mr. Dougherty should zero in on the school after Riverside's Parent Teacher Organization wrote the Committee to protest that "packs of dogs were molesting children."

Administrator Joseph R. Nini told Committee that the dog officer has been giving only warning notices following a citizen complaint. He has now been told to tighten his enforcement and to issue summons for court appearances to dog owners who have been warned two or three times.

Committeewoman William Wilson said lately that the ordinance specifically prohibits dogs on school grounds. Committeewoman John Wallace observed that the dogs are not actually running in "packs"—the "packs" are composed of individual dogs who have followed individual children in school.

Committee, after directing Mr. Dougherty to fix his attention on Riverside, also asked parents to keep dogs inside and at home until children have arrived at school.

May Divide District. The Township's Election District Five, with 1,095 registered voters, may be divided in two. Committee unanimously voted to ask county election officials to make the division because the district has become unwieldy. The County normally requires 500 registered voters as the optimum size for an election district.

The fifth district is roughly the "Shadybrook" area, bounded by the Princeton-Kingston Road and Snowden Lane up to Hermonstown Road. It is pulling place in Littlebrook School.

The Township is making progress toward working with the Borough Housing Authority on low-income housing projects in the Township. Mr. Wilson, Committee's housing member, reported that the Authority's counsel, Thomas P. Cook, will confer with Township attorney Gordon

A Look Ahead

Sound asleep
Beneath the snow,
Rows and rows
Of tulips grow.

Tuesday's snow didn't stay around long enough to make its mark, but there may be more this weekend. Meantime, the calendar holds hope for those who long for milder weather—winter has only another four weeks to go. Temperatures will average well below normal for the next two or three days, with snow possible by Sunday.

Griffin to draw up the legal instrument that will allow the two groups to work together. This is not an overnight project, Mr. Wilson warned. He cited determination of need, possible studies by the Planning Board and the relation of low-income projects to any middle-income housing undertaken in the community.

Mr. Wilson added that he and Mr. Nini would confer in the near future with Federal housing officials in New York.

The Great Road cut off won't be named "Cedar Grove Road" after all. Protesting residents, including "Tenace," told Committee they wanted the address to continue as "The Great Road." Committee, therefore, rejected the Planning Board's request to make the name change.

Hockey at Princeton Day School hasn't ruffled any among neighbors of the School's risk. Committee heard the risk declared a "public nuisance" Monday night. Neighbors complained of loud music on the public address system and the loud banging of pucks as early as 7 and 8 p.m., including weekends, and continuing after dark.

Mayor Carl C. Schaefer promised an investigation. Neighbors say they would settle for a 6 p.m. curfew and no Sunday practice.

Committee introduced the necessary ordinance making the Township a partner in the new regional sewer agreement.

TWO ARE FINED

In Traffic Court, Daniel L. Calhoun, 18, of Skillman, was fined $15 for speeding and Kishi Hagline, 43, 438 Torbune Road, was fined $12 for a red light violation Monday in Borough Court. Both pleaded not guilty.

In criminal court, Magistrate Theodore T. Vans Jr. dismissed an assault charge against William Manley, 35, of Trenton, an employee of Wilcox Hall on the University campus. The complainant was ployee of the hall.

Steven Henry, also an en-

Mr. Henry told Borough police that Mr. Manley had threatened him with a tire iron. Police had been called to quell a fight between the two in which Mr. Henry had allegedly pulled a gun on Mr. Manley.

A charge of purchasing beer for minors against Ramon Cruz, 35, 63 Leigh Avenue, was adjourned to give the defendant time to retain an attorney.

YOUTH ISSUED SUMMONS

For Careless Driving. Thomas E. Lawson, 17, 28 Merion Road W. was issued a summons for careless driving Saturday by Township P.I. David Funk, after he ran into the rear of a car on Bayard Lane at Route 206.

The second driver, Michael A. Legett, 42, 176 Bayard Lane, complained of shoulder and neck pains. Miss Lydia Spitzer, 13, of Lake Drive a passenger in the Lawson car, injured her thumb.

Police said that young Lawson was looking over his shoulder observing traffic on Route 206 and did not see the Legett car stopped for a stop sign in front of him. The mishap took place at 3:54 p.m.

Playhouse, Prince, Lincoln
 The Graduate (held over) is a comedy concerning a graduate who knows what to do about the future and who he counts involved with an older woman and then falls in love with her daughter. Under the direction of Mike Nichols, the film is a series of sketches (tied together by a thread of the type of satirical sketch Nichols used to act with Elaine May).

Dustin Hoffman, as the hero, is an easy mark for Anne Bancroft, and when her daughter, played by Katherine Ross, comes onto the scene, our hero falls for her. The mother is determined he won't marry her offspring. Her efforts to do him are the basis for the remainder of the sketches in the film.

The scenes, or sketches, are amusing and often hilarious. Dialogue is sharp and funny. Nichols uses some modern free-wheeling techniques, melding of reality and fantasy, shots through an aquarium and rock-roll background with vocals.

GARDEN

Smoky (Thurs. thru Sat.) This is Will James' famous tale about wild horses and the man who tames him.

Fess Parker is the lone cowboy who conquers the stallion Diana Hyland is cast as the ranch owner who gives Parker a job. Where there's a horse, there is usually a small boy and small boy Neil Patrick Harris Galindo, who befriends Smoky's master and is fascinated by the wild animal. The horse escapes after nearly trampling the child. A newly hired hand appears and tries to capture Smoky for the rodeo, and so Parker spends a week's amount of time as "chasin' the boss."

Freerick (Sun. thru, next Wed.) James Stewart as the marshal of a frontier town, refuses to act against five gunmen until the wanted murder of a stable boy occurs. Then he shoots them down one by one.

Henry Fonda, as the leader of the gunmen, quietly builds the character as a cynical, tired, middle-aged man who still has a few traces of decent feelings in him.

This is a twice-told tale of the Old West, rather short on violence for a western, but the film's showdown is a compensation for any prior lack. As Stewart shoots it out with the other gunmen, the scene builds.

Elegant Little Meel

A soft elegance characterizes the decoration of the new Pappagallo shop, and if you remember the 199 Nassau building as a dentist's office, you have a warm surprise waiting.

Avocado-olive green carpeting stretches softly from wall to wall. Feminine little chairs invite you to be seated while you try on a size five.

And the girls who help you in the shop wear the leggy bright pantyhose and the smocks that you can buy yourself.

all over, with long sleeves, a demure scoop neck, and high visibility.

But our favorites are the Italian silk shirts, satin finish, with deep cuffs at each wrist. Long, pointed collars at each neck. One shirt is peach, others are striped in combinations like navy and apricot and lime, or tones of grey-blue.

Pappagallo's favorite, we guess, is the coverup smock you can wear as an apron when company comes. Ties at back of neck and waist, has a fascinating squared neckline, and comes in colors like lime and pink and pale blue and orange and rust. They look like denim, and may very well be.

With anything you wear pantyhose in a small stripe and white. Twenty colors at the moment, with twenty POLAR colors coming in the opaque styles.

On your way out, pick up an umbrella; ladylike paisleys, impudent daisies on black, black stripes with yellow. Hand ties are bannoo.

RELAX WITH WALLPAPER Sit While You Browse. The new Saums wallpaper-floor covering window shade-point-carpet store (what don't they sell at Saums!) is three times the size of the old Saums wallpaper-floor covering — well, we don't need to go through that again.

The new one looks like a pleasant little house. It's on Princeton Avenue in Hopewell.

IT'S NEW To Us

THAT LITTLE HEEL

Here's Pappagallo. The silk-and-sassy combination that has made Little Pappagallo shoes famous, has stepped in to town at a new shop in the renovated building at 199 Nassau.

Dresses and cover-ups, pantyhose and umbrellas step out with Pappagallo in the new shop because, after all, if you buy new shoes, you've got to buy something new to wear them with.

The favorite Pappagallo shoe this spring seems to be the round-toed one with a peek-a-boo window near the tiny flat bow. You'll see it in bright pink, navy, black, the softest silver, a quiet shade of gold, navy alligator, brown alligator or white patent.

Pappagallo's patent for spring, by the way, has a wondrous sort of hammered texture which seems to catch even more highlights than smooth patent. You'll see it also in a black shoe with a tongue coming up the vamp and a black grosgrain bow.

Round toes wear orange piped with a narrow yellow that goes on to become the heel sling. Square toes shine up to a bright pink with brass nails studding the oblong buckle.

Dressed up, you'll wear a shoe in chocolate patent, navy patent or black (the shiny kind, this time), with an intricate bronze leaf-and-rose design against the putty color of the buckle.

Dressed down, you'll wear again and again Pappagallo's solid leather in very dark walnut with a wide sling studs and a stacked walnut heel. It almost swaggers, right there in the shop.

Endearing little shoes, the kind you think of as Pappagallo, include Little girl sandal styles in colors like soft blue-turquoise or pinks. Solid-toe moccasins with skin-tie ties are all designed with shalloy, rounded toes — and lots of colors.

About those dress racks. The boutique side starts when you step into the store covers worn by the girls who work in the shop. Some of these covers are light there on the rack, in turquoise and white ticking nicely worked so the stripes are just square-necked yoke dovetail with the wide and swagging body. Sleeves are wide and above the elbow.

A rain dress is heavy denim in putty color, guarded by a big zipper down the front, and turned into something sternly military by epaulettes and brass buttons. Those cape sleeves again, missing the elbow.

Olive wool gabardine makes a shirt dress whose deep pleat folds you for a moment into — caulettes. But it's a dress with deeply pointed collar and a flowing art nouveau tie in mostly pinks.

A white wool jersey yoke, turnover collar and half sleeves make a white "T" — a gainst deep chocolate (pale blue "T" against lime too).

The simplest dress in the shop is — maybe the wildest? It's violet and purple chevrons,

"A DELICATE BALANCE" With Community Players. Edward Albee's "A Delicate Balance" will be presented the first two weekends in March by members of the Princeton Community Players directed by Shirley Kaufman.

The play will be given in the John Witherspoon School auditorium, on March 1 and 2 and again March 8 and 9, all at 8:30 p.m.

Herbert McAnney will play the part of Tobias, originally played on Broadway by Hume Cronin. Mr. McAnney teaches English at Princeton Day School, and a charter member of the Players.

He appeared in the group's first play, "Cock Robin" in 1933, and two years ago, he played Mr. Frank in the P.D.S. production of "The Diary of Anne Frank." He also has directed Isobel's "The Doll's House" and "Angel Street" for the Players, and "Skin of our Teeth" for P.D.S.

Henry Siegle, who played many roles in Players' productions of the '40s and '50s, will portray Harry. Mr. Siegle has acted in films and television, on radio and with the Bucks County Playhouse. Sylvia Foudin, who plays Rebecca Nurse in McCarter's production of "The Crucible," able for study at the Public will play the part of Claire in the Albee play. Agnes, the part originally played by Jessica Tandy, will be played by Marjorie Brooks, who appeared last fall in the Players' production of "Separate Tables."

Natalie Rosenthal will be Edna and Gail Simmons will portray Julia.

TRYOUTS THIS WEEKEND

For Victorian Melodrama, "Under the Gaslight," has 28 speaking parts, crowd scenes and specialty numbers, so there's plenty of room for everybody to play.

The Victorian melodrama will be given by Princeton Community Players on April 18 for the benefit of the Princeton Hospital Fund.

Tryouts will be held this Saturday from 11 to 1, and Sunday from 1 to 3 at McCarter. Arthur Lithgow, executive director of McCarter, will direct. Copies of the play are available.

Actors in Reading

You're invited to go downstairs to McCarter's rehearsal room after this Friday's performance of "The Beggar's Opera" to see a reading of R.S. Simpson's play, "A Resounding Thicket."

Three members of the professional repertory company will appear in the reading under the direction of K. Lyne O'Dell. The play, which lasts about 45 minutes, is described as an early play from the theatre of the absurd.

Actors appearing in the brief production will be Pamela Hawthorne, Bryan Hull and Mr. O'Dell. The reading is open to all with-out charge.

By John Patrick. The Hun School Drama Club will present John Patrick's "The Hasty Heart" in Sals Auditorium, at 7 p.m. on Friday. The production is directed by David Cain.

The play concerns the effect of a bitter patient on a group of hospitalized troops during World War II. Liz Kobel, a student at Saint Country Day School, plays the female lead in the drama.

Other members of the cast are Reed Smith, Dick Male, Richard Cytowic, Jeff Tuffet, Jay Vickness, Tony Towart, Glen Super, and Tony Wise. Marc Eisen is the stage manager.

The public is invited to the production without charge.

FIRECRACK: Henry Fonda co-stars with Jimmy Stewart in the grim western that dwells more on humane frailty than on brass courage, and ends in an explosive climax. At the Garden this Sunday through next Wednesday.

FOR SEATING PLEASURE: Ron Curtiss' chairs may have backs, but they take up very little room on the floor, so you can see from this photo. The little stool comes — or will, when Mr. Curtiss makes them — in several heights. All Mr. Curtiss' hand-sawn furniture is available at Gallery 100. The gallery's Pam Lamb likes to pose with a nine-spoke chair.

which means that you enter Hopewell from the Roadside, Rt. Rose route, and find Sums on your left shortly after you pass St. Michael's children's home on your right.

Saums has used some of its new space for the pleasant, homiest wallpaper room. Wall-to-wall carpeting is on the floor, afternoon sun streams in from west window, there's a fireplace on one wall, and neat shelves of wallpaper books all around the big table in the middle.

Sit down, pour over the books, examine the window-shade samples on one wall, look at that good-looking tweedy carpet at your feet, and redecorate your whole house with a single turn of your head.

Saums is happiest this spring about a new laminating process which turns any fabric into a windowshade. You buy this stuff that has a sticky back. Pull off the protective paper laminate the backing to your favorite fabric, and you have a windowshade. If your fingers have sticky backs, too, Sums will do the work for you. Incidentally, you know how many of the new wallpaper books come with matching fabrics, don't you? Well?

Decorations for other window shades can be tassels, braid, fringe a very formal white fringe on white mair, or for contemporary rooms, fringes of gold, bittersweet or silver against a deep natural "linen" shade.

A basketweave texture, rather like a thermal blanket has been used for a white shade of vinyl-coated fiberglass. Its purpose is to break the glare of direct sunlight, and that's what it does. You can see out, but the sun can't get all the way in. Makes air-conditioners more efficient, reduces the fading that comes from direct sun and makes a bright room more mellow to live in.

Window-shades are the Saums' specialty. In another mention Mr. Saums will be making blinds in his own workshop right there in Hopewell. Did you know he's been an expert workman in this field for ten years? Meanwhile, down on the floor is that tweedy rug you've been admiring. It's a commercial carpeting designed for the tramp who may not buy it but it comes in many colors (seven of them) that you forget how utilitarian it is. The carpeting cleans easily with a rug shampoo and has its own rug pad laminate right onto the back. $10.55 a Board Has Wrong Attitude To The Editor of Town Topics:

In both Township and Borough housing conditions are supposed to meet certain minimum standards provided by the respective Housing Codes and enforced through the Health Officer.

Enforcement in the Borough has vastly improved during the last year, as the Borough faced with the fact that over half its dwelling units are renter-occupied and many of these creaking with age and disrepair, has taken definite positive steps towards assessment of the situation and enforcement of its Housing Code.

Local newspapers recently reported that the Borough Board of Health (with funds provided by the State and at no extra cost to the local taxpayer) is taking an inventory of all rental units in order to discover the extent of substantial housing. It has received cooperation and support from the Mayor and Borough Council in its attempt to eliminate the sore of slums and to preserve housing at a decent, livable level.

The Township represents an entirely different attitude. During the last year, following citizen outcry, the Health Officer began to carry out more housing inspections, at least at a cursory level, but the basic situation with respect to the elimination of housing slums remains unchanged.

Often, inspections have had peculiarly Alike in "Wonderland" effects, with cries of outrage from the Board of Health directed against tenants with dirty dishes in their sinks, or floors where old newspapers have been stored. But where are the cries of outrage against the landlords who continue to rent substandard housing?

These conditions have been festering for years but there has yet to be one landlord brought before the courts to answer for his flooding of the community's lake. For example, there is one property, known to the Township Board, where there is no bathroom in the first-floor apartment, and where the Board ordered the landlord to install a bathroom 16 months ago.

There is still no bathroom there and the Board knows and condones this on the grounds that the tenant is not, in fact, pressing to have a bathroom installed. What the Board cannot seem to understand is that it is the larger good of the community that it flouts when it refuses to enforce overall housing standards set by its own Housing Code.

With this sorry record then, the Board has the inexcusable to wonder out loud as to why more tenants in such housing do not make voluntary reports and seek almost exclusively appealing to interested organizations to do some kind of pre-inspection work for them!

The Township Board of Health's cavalier attitude towards our laws seems inexcusable, particularly when their problem than the Borough's. It would seem necessary for the Township Committee and Mayor to implement their newly expressed interest in the housing needs of their less affluent citizens by looking into the problems of those living in existing low and moderate cost rental housing, as well as by helping to further non-profit sponsored housing.

Peace Vigil Explained.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
On Nassau Street every Sunday from 10 to 11, sometimes at one location and sometimes at another, a Silent Vigil for Peace in Vietnam takes place. Although printed sheets are handed out to those in passing who will take them, saying that we are standing in reverent silence and sorrow because Americans are killing and being killed in Vietnam, and all though the two standards we hold proclaim "Peace Without Victory," most Princetonians do not seem to be by the Vigil and many of those who do min derstand the reason for a little group of people (we who are a big group as in hundreds of thousands) standing, often in bitter cold, to make a silent outward wish.

That silence is of a deep inner belief that our country is sacrificing its young men for a cause that is neither clear, nor what it started out to be, and that instead of saving a little blood, we are destroying it and continuance of the destruction will leave nothing to be saved.

Some people see a Communist shade when they look at us. Unless the indecipherable, white and blue of the flag we hold too dear to betray, we pick to color blind eyes, such a shade is not there. Some people may feel such a gesture is useless and silly unless numbers would give it importance, as the Silent Vigil before the grave of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington last week.

If so they see it as a detached, isolated idea whereas in reality it is a small link in a continuous chain that extends across our country. And so, because these ones have never felt a deep enough compulsion for a cause to make one of us a fool for it," it is so regarded.

I am one of those who thus proclaim my loyalty to America and my deep concern for my country.

Thanks for Cards and Gifts.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to express my appreciation the many people in Princeton who, to your article, sent Christmas cards to me and I'm sure, to many men here in Viet Nam at Christmas time. Regardless of varying public opinion about the war, the many presents and cards which were received by the Red Cross Field Director for distribution to the servicemen here indicate a genuine awareness of and concern for the men who are serving in Viet Nam.

As a woman currently serving in Viet Nam with the American Red Cross, I wish to thank you all for your thoughtfulness and support to me and to the men. I assure you it is greatly appreciated.

Bridge Plans Challenged.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The State of New Jersey Highway Department's plans for the Kingston Bridge and approaches continue without change. Princeton residents and residents of the affected area all agree that the bridge is a necessity, but area residents all agree that the planned approaches will adversely affect the area.

Mrs. Pamela Machold met with State Highway Commissioner David J. Goldberg and members of his staff on Thursday, February 1, 1968, to air the complaints of the residents. Mrs. Machold was courteously received by the Commissioner, but in the discussion it appeared that no compromise could be reached.

Let's Do A Little Reading This Weekend

Best selling books in Princeton this month appear to every late. Even hand-holders around-the-house will read one of them.

FICTION

"The Tower of Babel," Morris L. West, Novel about the Middle East today. (Princeton Book Mart).

"To Brooklyn, With Love," Gerald Green, Schnitzler, but nice pre-World War II Brooklyn story. (Public Library).

"Vanished," Fletcher Knebel, A Princeton author writes about the CIA and its power. (Male's Book Shop, University Store).

NON FICTION

"The Naked Ape," Desmond Morris, Witty, controversial book about homo sapiens. (Princeton Book Mart).

"The Man Who Walked Through Time," Colin Fletcher. By the first man to walk through the Grand Canyon. (Public Library).

"The New Industrial State," J. K. Galbraith, The man speaks for the book. (Male's Book Shop).

"Getters Parent and Child," Hampt Ginn, How to reopen communication with the young. (University Store).

RECOMMENDED . . .

"The Death of Virgil," H. Brock, Unusual, philosophical novel based on Virgil's death. (Princeton Book Mart).

"Chicago, I Will," Don Bronstein, Photographic essay about the changing city. (Public Library).

"The Way Things Work," published by Simon & Schuster. Fascinating, illustrated technical encyclopedia for the layman, recommended independently by two stores — Male's and the University Store.

promise could be made which would benefit the residents.

The State plans a wide four-lane access beginning south of Dedds Lane and continuing across a new bridge north of the current bridge and into Kingston. The extra wide road would pass as close as four yards from individual houses and in all cases will encroach upon the hedges, trees and shrubs which protect the residents. These houses include some of the oldest and most historic residences in Princeton — residences which would be demolished by the projected construction.

Furthermore, the State's unproven assertion of a 95-foot right-of-way is being used to confiscate property without payment and in all cases threatens title to adjacent properties. In one case this claimed right-of-way bisects one of the oldest houses in Princeton.

Finally, there is no evidence that the State has sought co-operation with the Township either in achieving the Township's objective of reducing traffic around Princeton, or in providing for the proposed megalopolis intersection. In fact, in several cases State officials were bothered to answer letters of the Township Planning Board.

Mrs. Machold suggested several alternatives which for the most part were dismissed out of hand. These include:

1) Tying in with the proposed Loop Road further down a stream at the proposed new bridge site . . .

2) Elimination of the acceleration lanes altogether . . .

3) More rapid tapering of the lanes since the excessive length of the lanes seems unnecessarily like an initial attempt to dualize Route 27.

Certain points of obvious disagreement over facts emerged from the discussion: namely, over the full nature of the federal requirements (especially since a proposal to lower the speed on the Kingston Road is currently being forwarded to the State, and a lower speed limit would allow shorter acceleration lanes and a sharper turning radius for the bridge), over the traffic density on River Road, and over the legality of the size of the seizure of land through the allocation of 99-foot right-of-way . . .

The truly sad feature of this problem is that the State would like to help the residents, and the residents acknowledge the need for a new bridge. However, for a damage to the area is justified by the State on the grounds that this is the path of "progress" and that as one staff member said "it's the matter with living close to the road—lots of people do."

And yet in terms of property values, aesthetic and historical values and security of our homesteads, it is we who pay the greatest tax.

ROLAND M. MACHOLD

Jazz as It Should Be Played. To the Editors of Town Topics: Princetonians who did not attend the High School Symphonietta Band Concert at the high school missed a great show. For the fourth consecutive year, the era of the Big Band was with us again even though it was only for two short hours.

To those of us who were teenagers during the period, it brought back fond memories. If the high school had booked just a wee bit more like the New York's Paramount Theatre, I'm sure my wife and I would have been dancing in the aisles.

The entire program was highly professional from the Symphonietta's theme song, Rhinophony in Blue (played by Paul Waterman) to the concluding number, a special arrangement of the Battle Hymn of the Republic. The lightning sound effects, stage appearance and music were excellent, and quality of the music were excellent.

All of the youngsters were wonderful, but several numbers deserve special mention. These were: The Drum quartet, the French horn novelty number and a swinging rendition of Mississippi Mud by the Crosby Bob Cats — whoops, I meant the Horton Don Cats.

All in all, it was as delightful an evening and credit must be given to the high school instrumental music department under Sylvan Friedman and Jack Horner. There will be another show next year, and I urge everyone to see it.

MURRAY MEDVIN

27 Levitt Lane

P.S.: I just had another thought. How can these kids go back to playing rock and roll after an evening of Goodman, Miller, Basie and Dorsey? I don't know, but they do. On misguided youth!

Affirmative Vote Is Urged.

To the Editor of Town Topics: On Tuesday, February 27, 1968, the people of West Windsor Township will vote on the revised Current Expense portion of the School Budget for 1968-69. The budget originally submitted and voted upon February 13 was defeated by the slender margin of four votes. In that election only one-fifth of the registered voters of the township went to the polls. We, the newly elected members of the West Windsor Board of Education, felt that the original budget was a realistic one. It was firmly based on the essential requirements of a school system which faces the challenge of providing a high school program as well as maintaining quality standards in two growing elementary schools.

We also believe that the board has made a sincere and determined effort to respond to the budget's rejection by deferring or cutting back expenditures in certain areas. In our opinion the necessity for the present our strong support of the new budget and to recommend its approval next Tuesday.

As members of the Board of Education our obligation is to work for the best in educational opportunity for all our children. We believe that this view is shared by the community at large. We feel, therefore, that our first task is to make known our strong support of the new budget and to recommend its approval next Tuesday.

We urge all registered voters to go to the polls and vote YES on the revised budget. We will then be able to get on with the important work ahead.

Doug: See Lives On.
 To the Editor of Town Topics: Doug Bee is dead. Really? Just kidding? Isn't it out there I will never be true. I first met Doug in the emergency room of Princeton Hospital about a year and a half ago — a talented Princeton University student — but nearly dead. He had had severe brain injury in practicing football. Three I gave anesthesia, monitoring his feeble life system, for surgery which we hoped would keep him alive. I think Doug was alive at those times and he must be alive now. If he died, when did he die?

Doug stayed at Princeton Hospital until last summer and then transferred to his home state of Michigan. Although I have left Princeton, as well as Princeton University, Doug Bee is still in Princeton. He has not died for those that have taken care of him, worked for him, and prayed for him. Doug Bee lives in us.

'Retdraw Plans for Bridge'
 To the Editor of Town Topics:

The current state plans for a new bridge at Kingston are progressing rapidly. Despite the many protests raised against its design, if they are carried out, it will be a splendid bridge with extensive approaches, ringed with guard rails will be built.

The naturally beautiful setting for a group of historic houses and the rural character of the Kingston side of Princeton will be lost. The houses will be made nearly unlivable. Gained will be more speed in traffic that will have no reason to slow down from Snowden Lane through the village of Kingston. (Speed is already a terrible problem in this area.) Homes and potential parklands will be subjected to super highway side effects.

A new bridge is a necessity; however, what is now designed is a far cry from what is needed or suitable for the area.

I would like to see these plans redrawn or, at the very least, modified to keep a possibly enhanced the values that now exist. I am sure the state can do this, but only if enough public pressure is brought to bear.

CHARLOTTE J. PIERCE
 (Mrs. William C. Pierce)
 1113 Kingston Road

Keep Bridge, Save Kingston.

To the Editor of Town Topics: Hammer to swing mosquito? A few warning signs, some well placed traffic lights and a little law enforcement would solve the Kingston Bridge problem.

Supervised speed would save lives and the beauty and recreational use of the crossing. It would save the State those telephone figure costs fashionable now for new road construction. It would save Kingston. It would save Princeton. It would go a long way towards saving Princeton. The bridge is now a "death trap." It can be made, if at least into a lovely quiet approach to Princeton which will preserve every kind of real (and really) value.

Unless our towns are to be turned into pit stops, ways must be found to reduce and proach the speed of the onrush incoming traffic. For too long, have we ravaged our country side, razed and gutted our towns and cities only to create the very traffic jams such wanton destruction was executed in order to solve. Princeton can protect itself by being a good neighbor and protecting Kingston. The bridge then becomes an integral part of a fully safe corridor, not a menace to it.

Town Topics reaches every home and place of business served by the Princeton post office. By their own failure, no other Princeton newspaper does as well.

A Gap Between the Teeth Is

Cute at Six-

but not at 16 or 60 —
Nor in Between!

It's natural to lose our first teeth. It is a regular part of growing up. Permanent teeth must have somewhere to grow.

At sixteen or older we shouldn't lose any, for teeth were meant to last a lifetime. With proper care, they can.

Here's How...

1. Clean teeth properly after eating... brush up on the bottom and down on the uppers... inside and outside as well.
2. Cut down on sweets, particularly between meals. A chief cause of tooth decay is the acid formed by fermentation of sugars in the mouth.
3. Have regular dental checkups. Important at ALL AGES. Thorough examinations will disclose any decay, infection or other problems.

Your community pharmacist advises you to see your dentist regularly for the professional care that means so much to smiles, good looks and good health.

BEAUTIFICATION PLANS FOR WAR MEMORIAL: An architect's rendering shows the plan for increased planning and approaches to Princeton's war memorial honoring men from this area who have given their lives in the first and second World Wars, Korea and Vietnam. A drive for $6,000 to cover the cost of the beautification project has been started.

For War Memorial. An appeal is underway to raise $6,000 for the beautification of the War Memorial located at the intersection of Mercer and Nassau Streets so that it will be "fitting to the high place for which it was dedicated."

Honorary chairman of the appeal, which seeks to raise money to improve the planning and approaches to the memorial, include: Mrs. Walter F. Edge, Dr. Robert F. Goheen, Robert B. Mayner, Henry S. Patterson III and Carl C. Schaefer, Jr. Dr. Charles R. Erdman, Jr. and Donald W. Griffin are directing the drive, with the aid of 32 other persons representing various community organizations.

Mr. Erdman said he was confident the community would respond enthusiastically to his appeal, the first of its kind in 43 years. "More than 1,500 residents served during World War II and more than 50 lost their lives," Mr. Erdman said. "Four more have died in Korea and Vietnam. Our community now has the opportunity to give in memory of those who gave everything for their country."

The monument, built in 1955 to honor residents who died in World War I, was rededicated in November to recognize men from this area who died in World War II, Korea and Vietnam. Checks should be made out to "Memorial Committee" and mailed to Dr. Erdman at 28 Boudinot Street. A progress report will be issued April 1.

Other committee members are: Nicholas J. Bartolino, Fred M. Blackner, Benjamin F. Bunn, Paul R. Chesbro, George R. Cook, III, Roderick W. Cook, Mrs. Jennie E. Coryell, William R. Cosby, Dan D. Cook and Robert S. Davis.

Also Edmund S. DeLong, Charles H. Draine, Alexander Duthie, Jr., Bruce H. French, William H. Gentry, Robert J. Lehnert, Edward A. MacMillin, Ralph H. Mother, Raymond M. Niles, John F. McCarthy, Jr., and Arthur P. Morgan.

Also Minor C. Morgan, Jr., Leonard F. Newton, Mrs. Mary Gill Reef, D. Don Richards, Hasker Saxton, James C. Sayen, David S. Thompson, William J. Tucker, Innocenzo Verna, L. L. Vivian, Jr., and Mrs. Howard Wasswood, Jr.

ALL QUIET
At Davidson's, Borough residents who complained to Coan on last Tuesday about a noisy refrigeration unit at Davidson's market had a quiet night's sleep on Wednesday.

A portion of the roof was removed from the space where the unit is housed, and sound absorbing material was installed, according to Borough administrator Robert F. Mooney.

Residents, questioned on Thursday morning by Mr. Mooney, said the noise had decreased sharply and that everybody had had a quiet night.

YOUTH CHARGED
With Drug Possession, A 19-year-old Township youth has been arrested and charged by Township police with possession of marijuana and narcotic paraphernalia.

Clement A. Jackson of State Road was arraigned Friday evening before Municipal Judge Glen R. Miller Jr. and released in $5,000 bail, pending his appearance in court March 10.

Jackson was arrested at 3:40 Friday afternoon in the vicinity of State and Arretton Roads by Anthony Gaylord, Police Officer. He was found in his possession about two and one-half pounds of marijuana in briefcase. According to the police, marijuana in bulk form is worth about $15 to $150 a pound.

The youth had been under a lengthy surveillance conducted by Detective Norman Servis, P.I. Robert Heacock and P.I. Robert Heacock and P.I. Robert Heacock. He was arrested after police saw him pick up a paper bag from among the weeds growing along the side of State Road. Police added that Jackson claimed he was a student at Trenton Evening School.

2 FIELD FIRES MONDAY
In Township, Firemen extinguished two field fires Monday in the Township that were reported within 30 minutes of each other.

At 11:50 a.m., a general alarm was sounded for fire to the south and west of the Littlefield Farm. A second fire was reported at 1:28 on Caldwell Drive, a short road located between Littlefield Road and Bertrand Drive. Township police said they believed both were started by children home from school during winter recess which began Monday.

GUNMAN TAKES $62
From Male's Book Store. A lone gunman held up Male's Book Store at 203 Nassau Street last week and escaped with $62.

The theft took place Tuesday evening at 10:30. Thinking at the time that there may have been some tie-in with the attempted robbery and shooting at the Princeton Bank and Trust that had occurred earlier that day, Borough police and several members of the F. B. I. descended on the book store.

Hugh Male of 76 Cedar Lane, the holiday victim, described the gunman as white with a stocky build. He reported that he had been in the store for some time and had asked several questions. At closing time, he was pointed a gun at Mr. Male and ordered him to open the register. Police said that they believe he left through a side door.

Detective Charles Harris is continuing the investigation for the Borough police.

Who cares?

WE DO!

OVERDOSE OF ASPIRIN continues to be the prime reason children are brought to the Poison Control Center at Princeton Hospital. Most of the youngsters are under 5 years old.

Usually they have thought the "baby" aspirin was candy and have helped themselves generously. Toddlers have eaten as many as 25 to 30 pills.

Such an overdose of aspirin can be fatal.

SAFEGUARDS you would do well to observe: Keep your medicine closet locked — Never tell a child you are giving him candy when it is really medicine.

Don't store household chemicals on the same shelves as food — especially, don't pour left-over amounts into old milk bottles or coke bottles. Children are likely to sample the contents.

Clean out your medicine cabinet two or three times a year. Throw away outdated drugs (antibiotics often have a limited lifetime — ask your druggist).

Throw away potentially dangerous items no longer recommended for home use, such as boric acid (poisonous to children), camphorated oil, oil of wintergreen, oil of turpentine and ammoniated mercury.

Keep drugs and household chemicals out of the reach of small children. Remember to read labels carefully. Never give or take medicines in the dark.

Take care. We care!

POISONOUS PLANTS

Dr. William H. Loery, Princeton Hospital pathologist, talked about poisonous plants at the January session of the Continuing Education Program of the hospital medical staff.

Among the plants on his list — and in many Princeton homes — is the dumb cane (Dieffenbachia sequine), sometimes called the "mother-in-law plant." A prime example is to be found in the Princeton University Store lobby. Community children who have chewed the Dieffenbachia leaf have been brought to the hospital with dangerously swollen tongues.

The bright berries of the Jerusalem Cherry plant are attractive to youngsters — and poisonous. So are the leaves of foxglove or digitalis plants whose showy, bell-shaped flowers adorn many gardens in summer. The leaf contains elements which dangerously stimulate the human heart.

The oleander leaf has a similar effect. Dr. Loery notes that people cooking outdoors over a fire made from oleander branches have been

DO THIS FIRST

- Call for a doctor — immediately.
- Keep the patient warm.
- Determine if patient has taken (1) A POISON: something not meant to be taken internally — or (2) AN OVERDOSE: a food or drug taken in excessive quantity.
- While waiting for physician, give appropriate counterdose below.

- Do not do force any liquids on the patient — if he is unconscious.

To Find the Correct Counterdose

- In one of the lists printed at left, find substance causing the trouble.
- Next to that substance is a number. This refers to counterdose bearing same number in the section below.

Keep all poisons and medicines out of reach of children affected when the fumes got into their food, or when oleander sticks were used as showers.

A number of cases of poisoning are reported caused by the leaf of the rhododendron or mountain laurel. Going back in history, a mass poisoning of Roman troops occurred in Asia when they tried to make tea from the leaf.

Other plants Dr. Loery mentions as dangerous include the red fruit of the yew, seeds of the wisteria vine, the green parts of potato and tomato plants, the peyote cactus, and the daffodil and hyacinth bulb . . .

Topics Of The Town

BIRTHS

Sixteen Born. Eight girls and eight boys were born last week at Princeton Hospital.
Daughters were born to: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shad, 24

FIRST WINNER. Pvt. Gary Doan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Doan of 12 Tulus Avenue, Lawrenceville, is TOWN TOPICS' first winner of a free phone call home from Vietnam. Pvt. Doan left in December to serve with the 3rd Artillery at Yang Tau a along the South China Sea near Saigon.

IN DA NANG. SP4 Thomas Callaghan, 20 son of Mr. and Mrs. George Callaghan of Mountain Avenue, is a radio repairman with an Army Signal Corps unit at Da Nang, the big U.S. base that is one of the hot spots of the Vietnam war. His wife, Gloria, and four-month-old son Mike live in Lawrenceville.

A Time to Remember

Once again, TOWN TOPICS takes pleasure in listing the names and addresses of men and women from the Princeton area serving with the U.S. armed forces and Red Cross units overseas. Far from home and their families, they would enjoy a letter from anyone who will take the time. The cost is like the price of a domestic air mail stamp.

Each month, a drawing will be held by the residents of Newark from the names on TOWN TOPICS' list. The family's winning serviceman is entitled to a free, three-minute phone call to their son in Vietnam, through the kindness of Communications Workers of America, Local 1060.

Servicemen's families may also tape record a message to their son with any charge at the University Store. "Come in at any time" is the winning offer. Arrangements may also be made to tape record a message, if this is necessary. Those knowing someone in Vietnam who is not listed are invited to send his name, rank, service number and address to TOWN TOPICS, P.O. Box 664.

House Street on February 11; Cranbury, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Ruch, Hubert Apts. Mr. and Mrs. David Morrow, view Terrace, Belle Mead, Mr. 6 Stevens Road, Kendall Park, and Mrs. Nicholas Gervais, all on February 12; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wojciechowski, Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Applegrass Road, Hightstown, Arold, 11 Ritter Road, Kendall, on February 13; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bouley, Grove Street, and Mrs. Paul Colby, 28 Overbrook Hill, on February 15; Brook Drive, on February 14; and Mrs. Paul Auerbach, 14 South Academy Street, on February 16.

Sons were born to: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tuttle, Spring Hill Road, Skillman, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kaplan, 4 Elm in orthopedic surgery at the press Lane, Trenton, both on February 11; Mr. and Mrs. ical Center, Robert Kane, 9 Holland Lane.

BUSINESS In Princeton

FINANCE OFFICER NAMED
For Applied Logic. Thomas J. Townsend, 288 Butler Rd., has been elected Vice President of Applied Logic Corp. He will be responsible for financial affairs of the line sharing computing center located at the Palmer Square. The appointment was announced by Richard M. Colgate, president of the company.

Mr. Townsend studied finance and management at the University of California at Los Angeles, where he received a masters degree. He comes to Applied Logic from W. where he was a corporate manager in finance. He has also been employed by the First National City Bank of New York, in commercial loans and investments.

ETS CHANGES POSTS
For Two Administrators. John S. Helmick, 36 Marion Road, a vice president of the Educational Testing Service, will become director of the ETS Western office July 1. The announcement was made by company president Henry Chauncey, who also has appointed Richard S. Levine, current director of the Western office, vice-president in charge of programs for the College Entrance Examination Board.

Mr. Helmick, a graduate of Northwestern University with a doctorate from Stanford, directed the Western office of the ETS from 1956 until 1963. He has also served the company as project director and coordinator of graduate-level programs.

Mr. Levine, a graduate of the City College of New York, with a doctorate in psychology from Syracuse, joined ETS in 1952 as a statistical associate. He has been in research and development for college board programs.

ORC PROMOTES FOUR
To New Positions. Joseph B. Davis, chairman of the board for Opinion Research Corporation, has announced four personnel changes at the company.

Eugene E. Heaton, Jr., 113 W. Broad St., Hopewell, has been named assistant to the chairman. A graduate of Swarthmore College with a masters degree from the University of Pennsylvania, he will coordinate ORC advertising and public relations, and continue as a research director.

Miss Sarah E. Hanevycatt, Devonport, N. J., Cranbury, has been appointed vice-president of ORC Service Corporation, in Princeton. She will direct interviewing and be responsible for the staff of the ORC National Probability Sample. She attended Rider College and has been on the ORC Staff since 1957.

Albert B. Staebler, 787 Princeton-Kingston Rd., has been made vice president of E. Reilly, Inc., an ORC subsidiary in New York City. He will be active in research direction and administration. Mr. Staebler received degrees from Georgetown University and Harvard Business School. Albert Westfield, 39 Rollingwood, has been elected vice-president of ORC West, Inc., of San Francisco. A recipient of B.A., M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University in economics, he has been engaged in research activities for over thirty years. He joined the ORC staff in 1946.

PROMOTION HEAD NAMED
At Dees Jones. Barry Pavelic, 23 Bedford Rd., Kendall Park, has been named circulation promotion manager of the circulation sales department of Dow Jones & Company.

Mr. Pavelic will help develop circulation for the Wall Street Journal, Barron's National Business and Financial Weekly, The National Observer, and Newsbooks, in his new post.

He received a B.A. degree in journalism from Rutgers in 1962, and joined McGraw-Hill, Inc., as a sales promotion manager, after graduation.

Mr. Pavelic became a promotion assistant at Dow Jones in 1965. In July, 1966, he was appointed a development manager for newspaper sales.

GROUND TO BE BROKEN
For Westminster Library.
Groundbreaking ceremonies for Westminster Choir College's new library-classroom building will be held Thursday at 11:45 a.m.

The brick structure will be contemporary, but designed to match the Georgian architecture of the rest of the campus. It will be air-conditioned and carpeted, housing the college's 80,000 volume library, five classrooms, several seminar rooms and study carrels.

Special facilities in the acoustically-treated building will include 12 listening rooms, with access to musical disks and tapes, and a planned information obtainable through a dialing system. Audio-visual rooms and projection rooms are also planned.

The ground-breaking marks the beginning of a campus development program for the college, directed by the Perkins and Will Partnership. A dormitory for 150 girls, designed by Fulmer and Bowery, Inc., is scheduled to be built later this year. Future plans include a student union, music center, gymnasium, and chapel.

Participating in the ground-breaking ceremony will be Lee H. Bristol, Jr., president of the college; William H. Walker, president of the Board of Trustees; William E. Cosby, president of the Princeton Bank & Trust Co.; the Rev. Arthur D. Duba, college chaplain; Edward J. Bickel, executive director of the State Commission for Higher Education Facilities; and Henry R. Backwell, Jr., vice-president of the Student Body.

PARTY HEADS NAMED
For PHS Student Election: Thom Yoder and Henry Chang have been elected party heads for the student administration day election, March 9 at Princeton High School.

Members of Yoder's party are Barbara McConnell, Laurie Penhoy, Mary Vivian, Hal Logan, Ann Rinalder, Robert Hilton, John Panzer, Debbie Joyce, Peter R. Gleason. Their faculty advisor is Lawrence Mandler, an English teacher.

Members of Chang's party are Libby Wert, Anne Middlebrook, Ted Ford, C. D. Brauer, Jerry Steele, Betsy Hartmann, Jeff Haring, Jane Freeman and Pam Delach. Graduate teacher Franklin Dippery is their advisor.

Both parties will present skits during the assembly program on March 6, illustrating the six planks in each. In the schoolwide election two days later, the student body will elect nine of the 18 party members to form the student board of education and nine of the 12 planks to present to the adult Board of Education.

On March 28, Student Administration Day, the elected members will become active, while the other party members will assume administrative positions within the school. Still other students will have the opportunity to teach classes.

CLUB News

Smith College Club has raised almost $4500 for scholarships to the college through its annual auction and raffle, headed by Mrs. David L. Carter, of Hopewell.

The auction itself netted about $2400, and another $700 was raised through a luncheon, baked goods, and small gift sales. The raffle, coordinated by Mrs. Leon A. Greenberg and Mrs. Frederic E. Fox, and won by Mrs. Elizabeth Moriarty, brought in $1300.

Girls from the area interested in obtaining scholarship aid to Smith may consult Mrs. Lucius Warming III, chairman of the club candidates' committee, or their high school guidance counselor.

Daughters of the American Revolution, Princeton Chapter; 1:30 p.m., Thursday at Trinity Church, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Michael will speak on "The Colonial Spirit in Wood and Glass," illustrating the link with items from their private collection.

The meeting will mark the DAR chapter's 75th anniversary. Mrs. Joseph R. Wood, regent, and Mrs. Charles R. Tindall, vice-regent, will preside. Guests will include Mrs. Albert C. Cornish, and former Princeton regents Mrs. Richard T. Anderson, Mrs. Everett S. Wells, and Mrs. Joseph Hiden.

Hostesses at the meeting will be Mrs. James A. Figg, chairman, Mrs. Frederick M. Gough, Mrs. Oliver Johnson, Mrs. Francis G. Evans, Jr., Mrs. John H. Meyer, and Mrs. Robert M. Englebrecht.

ART In Princeton

DRAWINGS ON VIEW
At Princeton Art Museum.
Through March 17, the Princeton Art Museum will have an exhibition of the French and Italian drawings of the Elise Durand and Mower Collection which Miss Margaret Mower assembled and is titled in honor of her late mother.

Over the past seven years, several of these drawings have been presented to the Museum, and now with the completion of Miss Mower, and for the first time, the whole collection spanning the 16th century to late 18th may be enjoyed in its entirety. Professor F. Gibson, Curator of Drawings at the Museum, believes that these drawings "perfectly illustrate European draughtsmanship in Italy and France in its most triumphant years."

French Drawings. This well-illustrated agility in drawing techniques provides the observer with a rewarding study of everything from complete portraits and landscapes down to tiny scraps of preliminary sketches. Of late one can see now, some two hundred years ago, Nicolas de Largilliere felt out the gesture of a banded elbow, a posed hand and in his study gave as a lively feeling of character for what might have been a whole portrait later.

The elegance of the period is charmingly indicated in Nicolas Lancret's "Seated Woman in a Peignoir," and culminated in the later extravagant style of Fresnard's drawings. One of the most prized of all the French drawings must be Francois Boucher's "Diana," a study for a ceiling decoration which is masterful in its free-

DIANA, BY BOUCHER: This Diana was done by Francois Boucher in black, red and white chalk and grey wash on buff paper as a study for a ceiling decoration. It is from the Elise Durand Mower Collection of French and Italian drawings now at the Princeton University Art Museum.

Italian Drawings. The earliest drawing in the collection is "Young Woman Carrying a Pitcher" by Francesco Maso, called Parmigianino in the early 16th century. The graceful flow of ink and wash and the accents of black chalk, make a prime example of what we admire in these Italian drawings which are so sure, suggestive and understated.

Two of the finest are the portraits of a young man by Annibale Carracci and "Young Girl Wearing a Ruff" by Giovanni Battista Piazzetta. Fortunately the former has been given to the Museum as a permanent gift and can be seen again and again with increasing admiration for its sensitivity and draughtsmanship. The latter, on loan for this occasion, is one of the most charming subjects, treated in kind with complete refinement and appeal both as a portrait and a picture.

These are but a few of the drawings which, separately or collectively, make one's visit to the Museum a special treat during the next month. Museum hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 10 am to 4 pm and on Sunday from 2 to 4 pm.

STEFAN MARTIN
Old Queen's Gallery, Stefan Martin's wood engravings and incised paintings will be shown at the Old Queen's Gallery, 290 George Street, New Brunswick, from February 25 to March 22.

Martin, a young artist from Roosevelt, New Jersey, enjoys an increasing reputation for his strong and evocative engravings and, in recent years, for a new process of painting which includes collage, cut thin pigment arranged in figurative and highly organized compositions.

The gallery is open from Monday through Fridays from 11 to 5, and on Saturday from 11 to 3.

TO ASK OR NOT TO ASK: Leap Year is supposed to be a girl's best friend but these Princeton High School juniors feel, leap year or not, that a girl should not ask a boy for a date except under certain conditions. Here are opinions of Barbara Sejnoski (left), Laura Mosovich and Betsy Englesong, see below. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: Leap Year or not, in your opinion is it acceptable for a girl to ask a boy for a date?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Betsy Englesong, 82 Philip Drive, PHS junior: Of course. Actually, if he were just a really good friend, I'd ask him to take me to the movies. But if I were after someone and I liked him, I wouldn't ask him for a date. Why? Because I'd seem too aggressive. Boys don't like an aggressive girl. You can't let them know you're after them.

Laura Mosovich, 161 Cleveland Lane, PHS junior: I agree with Betsy. If it's a good friend that you've known for a while, it's okay. But if it is somebody you have a deep crush on, you just can't go up and ask for a date. You not only lose your pride but you'll appreciate a date more if he asks you because he likes you. You'll know he sees something in you that is attractive to him.

Barbara Sejnoski, 194 Terhune Road, PHS junior: Whatever the case may be, I don't think it is socially acceptable. It's always been the boy asking the girl out. I think it should remain that way—unless it is a very good friend and it's just a mutual agreement. But keep it on a mutual agreement basis on the date.

Cindy Haldane, 456 Ewing Street, PHS freshman: If you know him real well, I guess it's all right. By real well, I mean if you've been good friends for at least six months.

Debbie Migeot, Abscon, junior, Holy Spirit High School: I think it is all right—under certain circumstances. If a boy doesn't go to the same school and your school is having a dance... something like that.

Pam Hammond, Abscon, junior, Holy Spirit High School: I think it is all right—under certain circumstances. If a boy doesn't go to the same school and your school is having a dance... something like that.

Honey Carroll, 99 Jefferson Road, PHS junior: Oh, I don't think so. I suppose it's all right but I know I wouldn't do it. The boy is the one who's going to ask you to marry him. I think he's the one who should ask you to go out. He's the one who is paying for it all.

Sharon Garrison, Note 318, PHS sophomore: No, I don't think you should—leap year or no leap year. He's got to go to you even if you do ask. I think any boy would think you were being too aggressive.

Gary Bleicher, West Wind Township, PHS junior: Why not? Let's say that a girl likes a guy a lot and he's kind of a jerk. She thinks he's a jerk and she gradually works up to "What are you doing Saturday night?" He says nothing. She can say "Well, why don't you come to the dance with me?" There's nothing wrong with that. That guy can always say he doesn't want to go. I would n't object if a girl did this to me.

Marlene Baiting, Rocky Hill, PHS sophomore: No, it looks forward for the girl to ask. The boy wouldn't think very highly of her. He'd probably think she was some kind of nut.

Miss Barbara Standley, Cambridge, Mass., graduate student, Boston University: Of course it is! I went to a woman's college and that's the only way we ever got a guy to come down. We had to ask him—and not only during leap year!

Mrs. Penny DeFelippo, Morrisville, Pa., nurse for Dr. Burbridge: Yes, because women outnumber men so much in our society today. Women are coming up in every other field to be leaders so I feel they ought to be able to take the initiative in asking for a date.

Miss Elaine Hartpence, Trenton, dental assistant for Princeton dentist: No, I don't. I just feel it isn't proper even though it is leap year. It has always been the boy's prerogative to ask a girl for a date and it is up to her to accept or not. I still feel it is something the boy should do. I think it is a little forward even in today's modern times for a girl to ask a boy.

Miss Kris Reich, 30 Wiggins Street, employee, Princeton Public Library: Generally not. But if she's giving a party or one of her friends is giving a party, it's perfectly acceptable to ask. Outside that, no. I guess I'm still a little bit old-fashioned but I like to be asked.

Mrs. Richard Bergman, 106 Balcourt Drive, houseside, Oh, boy! Why not?

Mrs. Eve Geller, Lawrenceville, employee, ETS, Inc., in some circumstances. I think it's acceptable when a girl is going to a date and she has to take a guy or possibly if she has dated him before. Or if tickets to a concert or such are made available to her. I see no harm in her saying, "I've got tickets to such and such. Would you like to go?"

Miss Anny Hopewick, sophomore at Rider College: No, I don't think it's appropriate. There are other ways to get a guy to ask you out if you want him to. You can't have to do it directly.

Mrs. Clelia Casey, Trenton, research assistant, Princeton University: No, that's absolutely a man's prerogative!

Jenny Gault, Cleveland Road, Stuart County, Va., freshman: No, I think the boy should ask the girl always. It's too forward for the girl to ask.

Ronnie Stafford, Boston, teacher: No, I just think it's the man's job to ask. It's one of those chases. She chases, lot, and undercover. Not in the open like men. It's a pretty big step—asking a boy for a date.

Dr. Seymour Becker, 47 Hallett Dr., an associate professor of history at Douglass University, is the author of a large-scale study of the Russian conquest of two central Asian states.
Enlisted "Russia's Protectorates in Central Asia: Bukhara and Khiva, 1865-1924," the book was published recently by the Harvard University Press. Dr. Becker has taught at Douglass since 1962.

John Sutherland, 180 Laurel Circle, attended a White House ceremony last week, where President Johnson presented the National Medal of Science to ten leading American scientists. Following the presentations, Mr. Sutherland was the guest of Vice President Hubert Humphrey at a luncheon at the State Department.
Mr. Sutherland, president of John Sutherland Productions, Inc., has produced a number of chemistry films used widely in the nation's high schools. The company has expanded to produce tapes, textbooks, and testing materials, in addition to films.
Three of Mr. Sutherland's latest films have been awarded the first prize for chemistry and top honors as teaching films by the American Association of Science Teachers, of the Free University of Brussels, at the university's Second International Festival for Scientific Films. Mr. Sutherland has also been honored with the University of Michigan's Sequenential Award for "creative contributions to educational films."
At present, Sutherland Productions is completing work on a multi-media system to train nurses for Intensive Coronary Care Unit.

AN EDGE TO THE TIGERS
Big Break from Schedule.
With four games apiece left for the two contenders in the Ivy League basketball chase, Columbia must take to the road for a pair of tough week-end assignments, first against Brown at Yale, then against Penn and Princeton. The Tigers on the other hand, will play in Dillon Gym against Harvard and Dartmouth, followed by Cornell and the Lions.

In a sport where the home setting make such a major difference — from the dimensions of the court, the location of the lights, the roar of the crowd and occasionally the of fringing — the edge working for Princeton is considerable. If the Tigers are good enough to substantiate the notion that any team worthy of the Ivy crown win all its home games, they will have another tie in their possession by the night of March 2.

It is possible — though unlikely — that Columbia may be upset in one of its three games before it comes here for the showdown on the last night of the season. Playing on their own courts with nothing to lose, Brown and Penn could find a way to make trouble for the Lions as the pressure mounts.

The toughest game of the three should be Saturday at New Haven — depending on whether the Elms have had all the whys knocked out of them by back-to-back three point deficits at the hands of Penn and Princeton. That game, starting at 8:30, will be televised over Channel 21, as will the Columbia game here the following weekend.

Harvard vs. Dartmouth. Maybe. Even in the ill-fated world of college basketball, it seems beyond the realm of possibility that Harvard and Penn make trouble for the Tigers in Dillon Gym. The Crimson 6-12 overall, has lost one of its top players, 6-6 Barth Royer. For the season, and has won only once in the last six weeks. Chris Gallagher (6-5) and Bob Kanuth (6-4) are averaging in low double figures. Captain Bob Feller and Jeff Grate are the backcourt pair; Paul Wiczkowski, a largely inexperienced 6-9, has replaced Royer as a starter. A lack of defensive ability (99 points yielded to Princeton, 115 to Columbia) is Harvard's biggest problem.

THE RUMOR WAS EXAGGERATED. Reportedly through for the season a month ago with an injured achilles tendon, sophomore John Hummer played a major part Saturday in Princeton's come-from-behind victory over Yale. Scoring 18 of his 22 points in the second half, Hummer hit on 7 of 10 field goal attempts, 5 of 11 from the foul line and helped the Tigers dominate the rebounding in final 20 minutes. The 74-71 victory was Princeton's 12th straight over Elms.

A Dartmouth team that was 1-13 a year ago and foundering badly at the start of the current season has started to play greatly improved basketball. After losing by 20 points to the Tigers at Hanover on January 12, the Indians have motion and increasing the opportunity to steal. Nevertheless a slowdown does improve the weaker team's chances, keeps the taller, better-shooting opponent within range, and Gavitt is quite likely to resort to such tactics again.

2ND HALF RALLIES WIN
Tigers Trail in Both Games.
Behind by three (21-18) at Providence at half-time, and by ten (38-28) at New Haven, Princeton's basketball team won twice last weekend against opponents which would rather trim the Tigers than any other quiet in the league. Brown has not taken the Orange and Black's measure. —Continued On Next Page sure since 1920, when far Yale was the 12th straight loss to the Tigers despite some stand-out material at New Haven. But in the last half dozen years.

At Brown Friday, a 20-27 shooting average in the first 20 minutes against a tight zone got the Tigers hot, but water, and as had been the case early in the second half to bail them out. No one played well — Chris Thorndore was high for the victors with 12 — and as had been the case early in the year, it was obviously a case of coasting too much against a team which had been neutered in Dillon Gym a week earlier. The score at Providence was 54-40 — in contrast to 96-38 here — and the principal deficit, therefore, was the need to keep the starters in action throughout the game, which they might have rested a bit for the following night's pro-technics.

Nene of the four seniors starting for Yale have been beaten Princeton, but this year they were playing on a team good enough to win. In its first 10 and have a shot at a triple tie for first place in Ivy action. Their ten-point lead at the half moved steadily upwards when play resumed and with 11:05 to go, they led, 4-0.

Confronted with a major deficit and a jubilant crowd on every twist of their humiliation, the Tigers had going for them memories of their two 1907 victories over the Elis by a total of three points, bulwarked by the fact that after almost drawing even here a week ago, Yale had faded in the final minute. In short, the Princeton entry in this sizzling melodrama thought the job could be done.

A surge that saw sophomore Hammer strike half the points helped the visitors close 14 to 1 for the home to 27-34. With five minutes left, they trailed by as little as two and then by as many as seven; with three minutes left on the clock, it was still 27-41 for Yale, but then the momentum was gained completely by the Tigers. A burst of nine straight points gave them what proved to be an insurmountable 70-47, lead even though the Elis had the ball and 1:08 left on the clock.

They narrowed the gap on a pair of free throws but Thorndore converted on a 1-and-1 situation. Yale's retaliatory drive was eliminated by a missed field goal, and when the Tigers came down court again, the Elis chose to foul Joe Heiser, who has a better average from the line than anyone else in the nation. After missing his first early in the game, he made 18 straight. For the second week in a row, Yale outshot Princeton from the floor (28-24), leading the foul line, where the Tigers made 26 to their 19.

The Tigers' problems were traceable to a 27-15 edge in rebounding for Yale in the first half, a margin which the victors managed to reverse in the final 20 minutes, and the fact that they let Rick Borer double his season's average by hitting for 30 points. Despite the national ranking they held for allowing the opposition something up and down the game, the Tigers have been frequently plagued by one player whom they cannot hold in check.

Four starters and Hammer, who gave one of the top performances within memory in reserve capacity, all double figures. Paced by his 22 points, the Tigers followed with 10 for Heiser, 11 each for Geoff Petrie and Thorndore and 10 for Lawford.

Hammer actually came in for Thorndore when he got in to foul trouble with three in the first half, but Thorndore later returned so that Hamner was replacing a cold John Harlowe. What Hamner did Coach Pete Carril will start as you may well be game-by-game proposition, but Hamner's return to top form will give the Tigers one reserve player of proven ability who shoots 67 or better. That's quite an asset in the stretch run.

FIRST IN 12 YEARS

Hockey Shoutout at New Haven. Normally, sports fans tend to be frustrated when simultaneous scheduling of two major athletic events prevent them from seeing more than one of them. At New Haven Saturday it was just as well: a scant half hour after the Yale basketball team had blown a 18-point lead to the Tigers, the Elis setback suffered its first

Princeton since 1886.

A pair of tight period goals broke up a scoreless tie, the first by forward Dick Johnson ending 127 over the course of a zero-zero action. Jerry Kennedy fed Johnson from behind the cage to set up the 1-1 tie.

Six minutes later, defense man Tom Rawls hit on a blue line shot to give goalie Ed Ziegler a scoreless tie. It was the sophomore's second shutout of the season and earned him an average of more than three goals per game in the contest. The Tigers have played since the mid-winter action.

The Tigers scored Yale, 49 to 16, generally playing good hockey despite the inability to win by the wide margin that should have come with their point control since the first time since 1962 that Princeton has swept the Ivy League series with the Elis.

Population Explosion. When the hockey game with Pennsylvania ended last Wednesday, there were six players in the Baker Risk penalty box — three from each team. A seventh was off the ice to make sound a catch misconduct by referees Vin Goddard, who also handed out a suspension for fighting and another misconduct.

The affair — won by the Tigers, 6-2 — was a regrettable occasion because about to get it got away from the officials. Penn coach Jim Salfi already has the unsavory indication of having become the first coach to forfeit a game (he was trailing, 5-0, when he called his players off the ice in New Haven because of a disputed goal), and his players tend to be batters rather than skaters. In all, there were 36 penalties called — 15 of them in the last 20 minutes.

It took the Tigers two periods to break the game open, despite 24 shots on the Penn cage in the second round alone. Captain John Ritchie scored three times and Regan Kennedy was called upon to make only 15 saves, in contrast to the 54 shots the home team launched at the Penn nets.

Brown was on the schedule Wednesday night, with the outcome of that game figured to play a major part in Princeton's ability to land a berth in the ECAC post-season tournament. Round games against Dartmouth, Saturday, and Penn next Wednesday will precede Cornell's visit here on March 2.

HUN VS. DELBARTON
In First Round of Tourney.
The Hun School basketball team was scheduled to meet Delbarton Wednesday in the Newark Academy gymnasium as its first-round opponent in the annual New Jersey Prep School Championship tournament.

Hun is also scheduled to meet Blair Academy here at the Princeton Seminary gymnasium Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in its final game of a 16-game schedule. However, Blair is competing in the same prep school tourney in the same night as Hun and how much school rivalry will determine whether there will be a game Saturday.

Farragut Upsets Hun. On Friday, Hun traveled to the shore for a non-league game with Admiral Farragut and was upset, 72-67, by the future admiral. "We didn't play well. We missed too many easy shots," commented Hun coach Dave Leate.

For Hun, which may have been the past part Farragut to its all-important game with George School, the loss was its second against the downvictories. Farragut won its fourth in 14 starts.

Four of the six Hun players to score reached double figures. Co-captain Don Silverman was high for the losers with 18. Nat Williams had 13. Mike Maguire and co-captain Pete Natravani added 11.

The 1949 Volkswagen Sedan The 1968 Volkswagen Sedan

Can you find the one thing we haven't changed?

It's not our engine. We've changed our engine 4 times since we introduced the bug in 1949.

And each time we've made it stronger. So today you can drive the bug 78 mph all day. And not harm the engine.

It's not our transmission. In '61, we synchronized it for forward gears for smoother shifting.

And just this year, we introduced a new optional transmission, the automatic stick shift.

Like most automotives, it has a low, a drive, and naturally, no clutch. But unlike most automotives, it has both a stick shift and an extra gear.

Once you're cruising above 55 mph, you simply shift our stick into over gear. And away we go.

This year alone, we made 36 changes in the bug.

For instance, we've moved our bumpers up. And strengthened them. We've enlarged our windshield wiper blades. Installed a telescoping steering column. Included seat belts for all seats. And added extra padding all around.

What's the one thing we haven't changed since 1949?

The basic idea behind the bug.

Even with all our changes, it's still the honest, sensible, economy car it started out to be 19 years ago.

For instance, it still costs less to buy than most other cars. And it still costs less to run than most other cars.

In fact, not changing the basic idea behind our car is probably the best thing we've ever done.

Because in 1949, we sold only 2.3 millions.

But since then, we've sold almost 3 millions.

SUMMIT HOCKEY FRIDAY
Against PHS Skaters.
The Summit Hockey Club will play its second visit this winter to the Princeton Day School rink Friday evening at 7:30 for a game with Princeton High School Summit was the first meeting between the two in January, 4-8.
On Monday evening at the same rink, Livingston Little School will oppose the Little School skaters. The game will be 7:15. Next Friday will be the finale with PDS.

Wassatchan Wins. With 2:55 remaining in the first period, John Heister knocked in a rebounding puck during a melee in front of the Wassatchan goal Saturday afternoon at Baker Rink. That brought the Little Tigers within two, 3-1. That was their highest mark. Wassatchan, goalie, Mike Ritchie, shut them out the rest of the way and the visitors came back strong to win, 7-1.

It was a disappointing outcome for PHS coach Pete Cook. Two weeks ago against the same club, PHS had lost by one and was the better team at the finish outshooting Wassatchan by a wide margin in the final period. Saturday was supposed to be Princeton's chance to finish what it almost accomplished earlier — upset the Pennsylvania hockey club, now 13-3.

"We just didn't play a good game," commented Cook. "We had too many penalties... too many foolish penalties." That, and some fine defensive play by the visitors. It seemed as if every time the Little Tigers came down ice, Wassatchan stole the puck. The visitor's passing was also sharper and more controlled.

PDS TIGERS CRANFORD
Meets Lawrenceville Friday.
Coming off a 3-3 tie with Cranford Hockey Club, which had both satisfying and frustrating aspects, the Princeton Day School hockey team will meet Lawrenceville Friday at 7:45 at home, seeking a repeat of last Wednesday's victory.
Saturday at 1 p.m. the Panthers will play the Hill School and possibly one other team later in the day as part of the Wassatchan hockey Hockey Tournament in Chestnut Hill, Pa. Friday's contest with Lawrenceville counts as part of the tourney. A game with PDS alumni is scheduled for Thursday afternoon.

Meeting the Larries on their home ice, PDS skidded to a 4-2 triumph led by sophomore Jim Rodgers' two goals. Lawrenceville jumped off to a 1-0 lead that held up throughout the first period, but the Panthers went ahead on goals by Rodgers and Bob O'Connor.

The losers knotted the count at 2-2 early in the final stanza, but Rodgers' second score, with eight minutes left put PHS back on top. Fred Erdman added an insurance goal near the end.
In the return match with Cranford, which had defeated PDS 3-2 in overtime in January, both teams played spirited hockey for most of the three periods and the five-minute overtime that followed. After a scoreless first period during which PDS missed several opportunities, the Panthers finally found the cage on a goal by John Taylor, assisted by John Battle.

Cranford came right back 30 seconds later and tied up the contest, 1-1. Again PDS moved in front, this time on a score by Erdman, who banged in the rebound of a shot by Alan Donaldson. Cranford responded with a two-goal outburst and tied 2-2 at the close of the second period.

With freshman Tom O'Connor in the nets in place of Chris Reeve, the Panthers struggled for the tying marker. With two minutes remaining, Rodgers managed to slip it by the Cranford goalie, but the Panthers' PDS' attempt to score time and again.

even of first time wing goal Scelton, who sat out with an injured tendon. He should be ready to go Friday.

PDS FIVE BACK HOME
Against Chestnut Hill. The Princeton Day School basketball team, which lost two earlier season games away from home last week but won the important qualifying game for the prep school tournament, will play in its own gym Friday afternoon, at 7:30 against Chestnut Hill Academy.

A 71-59 triumph over Stevens Academy on Saturday in the Lawrence High School gym put the Panthers into the gymnasium where they were scheduled to face top-seeded Montclair on Wednesday afternoon, in St. Bernard's gym. A win here would put them against the winner of Wednesday's Rutgers Prep-Jewish Educational Center game in a contest scheduled for this Saturday.
PDS lost a squeaker to Rutgers on Sunday last Feb.

Cornering at high speeds is one of the things to expect small cars to do, successfully. Unless it's a SAAB, the out-of-the-ordinary small car. Out of the ordinary because it has front-wheel drive. team reported 5-7. The Hoboken (from Princeton) in the mythical Mercer County League, losing eight games. The Little Tigers are to win at all this represents their best opportunity. It will be the first meeting between the two schools this season.

In Princeton's final home appearance, Friday evening against Hamilton, PHS coach Larry Ivan and the team's dwindling supporters had to endure the agony of seeing PHS connect on just one of nine attempts from the floor in the first period. While Billy Brooks was getting Princeton's lone basket, the visiting Hoboken forced a series of turnovers with a half-court zone press and controlled both boards to take a 23-1 lead in the first eight minutes of play.

Over the remainder of the game, Hamilton was only stolid. The 75-51 final was Hamilton's eleventh victory in 20 outings.

Inability to gain offensive rebounds hurt the home team.

Hamilton had the edge in rebounding, 63-41, although the home team 29 for 30 vs. 28 for 39 from the floor and enjoyed a third advantage from the foul line: 17 for 23 compared to 9 for 20 for PHS.

Billy Brooks and John Madden were the top offensive leaders for the Little Tigers, scoring a dozen points each. Al Morino added 10.

WEIGHT - WATCHERS! YOU'LL LOVE THE MERCEDES-BENZ 250S:

THE $6600 CAR — WITHOUT AN OUNCE OF FAT . . .

The Mercedes-Benz 250S is built to be driven, not just admired. Its design is so sane that the car measures two feet shorter than its major $6600 rivals . . . yet matches them for spaciouness. You can steer, corner, park, and stop — a boon in city traffic and tight parking.

No fat car this! The trim dimensions of the 250S provide ample room for 5 adults, their hats and their luggage. The interior is wider than the newest Rolls-Royce, and the trunk has more cubic feet of capacity than Cadillac, Lincoln or Imperial.

Built to be driven. Our engineers designed this 250S so that the car sticks to the road, and you stick to your seat. No seakick wallowing, pitching or rolling. This is one car that isn't fazed by rough or winding roads. The 6-cylinder engine is about 1/3 the size of a typical "luxury" car V8. Average fuel consumption is 20 mpg.

Built to stop! A 10-inch, caliper-type disc brake is clamped to each wheel. A dual circuit brake system is standard equipment, along with an automatic control that balances front and rear braking forces.

Functional inside as well as outside! Individual front seats are 22 inches wide. They adjust up and down and fore and aft. They also recline. The 5-foot wide rear seats are as carefully shaped as the front seats. Firmly padded. A built-in ventilation system supplies constant fresh air. And . . . that wood instrument panel trim is real wood!

Safe . . . Safe . . . Safe! The 250S provides a rare sense of security. Front and rear body sections are designed to yield on violent impact while the passenger area stays intact. Inside, possible danger spots are padded, recessed or made of flexible material. Safety dictated the design of every feature—from the steering assembly to the roof supports.

basketball league. The win kept NCA in first place with a perfect record.
John Dixon had 20 points for the losers. In the other game the hospital defeated RCA, 37-38, to remain only two games off the pace. Roger Madden, Billie Hall and Jan Young had 17, 14 and 10 points respectively for the winners, while Jim Wilno had 14 for RCA. ETC. had a bye.

HAMPSHIRE HOUSE IN THE WIN
Mike's Slacker, Dine 62-58 last week, Hampshire House faced Mike's Slacker in tonight's night last week in the Princeton Women's Bowling League and emerged with a tie for first place with Mike's, 64-64.

Kingway Motors is second with 60 and Rocky & Sons third with 58. Fourth place, Roger's Cafe (56) fashioned the high team score—63—and series, 60-53.

Marilyn Silverstein of Ressa's was credited with the high single game of 211, while team-mate Florence Javars secured the high series, 538. Mrs. Javars best game was a 280.

Under high single games: Florence Roberts, 260; Sara Rose, 187; Marion McCoskey and Jean Foster, 177; and Betty Cooper and Sue Goodwin, 174.

BOWLING NOTES

Picnelli Bowler of Week. The name Picnelli figured prominently last week in the TOWN TOWNSHIP Award for Bowler of the Week at the Princeton Recreation League.
Claude Picnelli of Princeton Aviation in the Nassau League won the award for the week's high single game with his 248 second game of a 631 series.
Eleanor Picnelli, related to him, not the wife of Claude, won the award among the women with her 198.

In addition to Picnelli's 631, there were two other 600 series in the Nassau League. Jim Soley rolled 218-237-188—923 and Dick Traeger, 188-214-213—646. Jerry Perpetua had 200-260. High single games were Bill Whitley's 233, Ed Hughes' 215, and a pair of 213's by Bill Parke and John Baldino.

Tiger Garage was able to hang on to its two-point lead in the standings but the pressure from the runners-up has increased. Three teams are tied for second with 28 points each, two back of Tiger. They are Grover Lumber, Princeton Aviation and R&D Atlantic.

The firemen had a relatively cool week. Highest game in the Tri-Country League was a 217 by Frank Maddaleno. The most consistent bowler was Ed Hughes who rolled 197-195-262-594.

Rocky Hill, second last week, wrestled the lead from Hook & Lander (7), 16-14. Mower No. 3 (12) and Plainbois (10) follow.

Were it not for Baletieri, which leads the A League by eight points, any one of seven teams could take over. Princeton Del and Maut Electric are knotted at 24; Nini Leasing, Antler's and Ivy are all even at 22 and Lee's Gulf and Stefannelli have 20 each. Three more are tied at 18.
Individually, the emphasis was on volume. No fewer than 13 games over 200 were rolled, led by a 244 by Don Snyder on his way to a 627 series and a 233 by Bill Penell, who posted a 637. Penell also had games of 203-201. Nick Scule rail had 215-219 and Dick Power 212-202.

High singles: Al Hibbard, 227; Guido Zinetti, 224; Jerry Perpetua, 223; and Joe Proscacini, 222. Those who were above 200 were Angelo Tamasi, Bill Cavanaugh, Bob Cicci, Dave Picnelli, Nick Rossi, Wilton Rose, Bill Whitley, Fred Proscacini, Wes Cawsey, Sam

Lidai, Jack Petrone and Renato Pellichero.

Strikes has taken the lead after two weeks in the Mixed League with 10 points. Mixers and Spares have 8 each.

High among the men were George Munson and Pete Thomas with 204 and 185 respectively. Julia Bart, 183, and Dot Thomas, 172, led the women.

In the Blue Angels Hi-Y League, Mike Skillman topped a 330 series by two pins. He rolled 173-169-154. Bill Janey had 151, Greg Kling, 148, and Peter Thompson 144.

With next week marking the end of the first half, Turkey's has a 44-38 lead over originals. Operators is third with 36.

last week and as a result there is a four-way tie for first place in the Women's Business League. Sharing the top spot with Thone's last week's leader—were Rocky Hill, Bucci Builders and Mackenzie Realty. Princeton Taxi owns second place with 100.

Former TOWN TOPICS winner Carlo Harris rolled a 232 in his play over her average to tie Diane Fowler for the high single game in the season. Sara Rose had 222, 137, 573 and Marge Drummond 133 and a pair of 111s for 557.
Behind Mrs. Pinelli's 190 came Lillian Burroughs' 191. Helen Tamasi's 187, Julia Ball's 183-170, Ted Wheeler's 179 and Carlo Lisi's 178-171. Eleanor Spaulding converted the 5-6-7 split. Betty Perone the 2-7 and Sis Snyder the 5-10.

HUN WINING IN OVERTIME

Takes Penn-Jersey 7-11-4, Outscoring George School, 7 to 3, on the losers' court in overtime. Hun School's basketball team captured the Penn-Jersey champion's 8 p.m. game, 69-61, after four periods, the Red and Black's overall mark is now 11-13, at the half.

Herm Secker, whose field goal goes pretty through the extra period gave the victors the lead for good, had a game-high 30 points. Secker's Mike Maguire with 16. Hun School's 11-15 at the end of the first quarter, 19-10, but at the end of the second, 35-21, at the half.

Hun was back to five with three quarters gone but a 17-12 margin in the final quarter. Hun regulation play closed the gap. The Red and Black's overall mark is now 11-13, at the half.

PIS DIPS ANOTHER

Quietest Beaten, 75 to 49. A 32-point second period for unexcited Cathedral High sent it surging to a 75-49 triumph over the Princeton High School basketball team Tuesday in Trenton. The visitors led at the half, 47 to 19.

John Madden collected 14 points for the losers, with 10 points in the second quarter. The 13. The losers dropped to 3-18 on the season, ranking eighth in the state with its 21st straight victory.

FLEMING IS SITE

Of District Wrestling. District wrestling matches will be held Friday evening, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night at Fleming's Gymnasium, Central High School adjacent to Route 31. Schools from the Princeton area will be competing for a chance to enter the N. J. regional matches on Jan. 1 and 2.

Princeton High School wrestling coach Tom Murray will lead a team of 10. There will be no FIS competitor in the 110-pound class, since Nick Arcaro is out with a slight separation of his sternum bone and in the unclassified or heavyweight division where the Little Tigers have no varsity contender.

Best prospects for the Little Tigers are Hank Wilkinson, undefeated competitor in the 110-pound class. John Barclay in the 141-pound division and Ross Bayar, undefeated but only one performance, 180 pounds. Wilkinson and Bayar are champions of the team.

However, Murray reported that there are three other top-ranked entrants in the 115-pound division and that Bayar

THOUGHTS OF SPRING: The executive committee of the Women's Golf Association of the Hopewell Valley Golf Club met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Yoder in Princeton to plan to schedule for the coming season. will be up against an undefeated Hunterdon wrestler in his division. "There will be some awfully good matches over the weekend," he said.

Win Final, 39-11. FIS ended its regular season's competition Friday at the John Witherspoon School gym with an impressive 39-11 victory over Colonia. The win was the Blue and White's fifth — two more than last season — in 12 dual matches.

"We came along fast," commented Murray. "It's too bad we're not just starting instead of finishing the season." He pointed out that his team lost to Hun by two points and to Peddie by four. Success in both would have given FIS a winning record in its second year of varsity competition.

What's more, PIS loses only three times in 17 regular season games. Matt Helmer, 157 pounds, and Tris Coffin, 123 pounds, are the team's top scorers. Helmer, a senior, has a record of good prospects from the jayvee and freshman squads, has Murray saying, "We look forward to next year already."

Against Colonia, Wilkinson, Sam Procaacian, Barclay and Bayar were the stars.

In the 39-pound class, freshman Dave MacDonald, filling Man's place, weighed 230 pounds. Matt Evans, also won by a Danny Gates (166) and Bobby Moore (130) won decisions. Matt Helmer weighed 157 pounds and scored 13 points. Helmer's victory "his best match of the year."

But, the most exciting outcome came in the heavyweight. Patch versus 170-pound freshman, Luciano "Lou John" Rossi, defeated his opponent who was a 170-pounder. Rossi, 230 pounds, according to Murray. "Lou John" won when he obtained a take down with less than a minute to go. His jubilant teammates carried him off the mat.

YMCA STARS TOP WITHE

To Bezzell Game. The YMCA All-Stars edged past the WJWH No-Stars last week, 10-9, in a basketball game for the YMCA Building Fund. (Ken Aronson photo) said, "The game was a close one, but the game of the evening, the 10-9 victory, was a hard-fought one. The referees ruled in favor of the Reading Railroad Guardians, 28-8."

UNBEATEN SEASON ENDS

For YMCA Girl Swimmers. A lopsided 15-45 triumph over the West Essex YMCA gave the girls' swim team a perfect 10 record. The YMCA Flying Fish Club the division champion will probably move the girls' team into the top competitive bracket in the state.

The boys' team, already competing against the top clubs in the state, lost to Summit Y.M.C.A. 15 to 82, and finished with two losses in the 115-pound for fifth place in a field of six. This week the girls will win in the 115-pound division at the Madison YMCA. Each Saturday the girls' team will compete in the New Jersey Junior and seniors' sectional championships, hoping to qualify for

Yale Swimmers Due

Yale's freshman and varsity swimming teams will compete against their Princeton counterparts Saturday in Dillon Pool. The freshmen will begin the afternoon program at 2, with the varsities following at 4.

All four teams in the meet are undefeated, with undisciplined possession of first place in the Eastern League awaiting the winner of the evening event. Off Yale's extreme strength in the free-style events and overall depth, Princeton is not expected to win this meet, but there are hopes that the Tiger freshmen may triumph.

Cambridge Saturday, both teams won against Harvard, the varsity, 38-55, and the freshmen, 20-10. The process, the Class of '71 set a freshman freestyle relay mark of 2:12.7.

DRIVE TO END STARVATION

For University Food. Princeton University's Annual Giving Campaign ends Saturday at the 10th annual Mid-Winter Meeting of the National Alumni Association, when total donations of the three-month fund drive will be announced. About 32,000 alumni of the college and graduate school, plus parents, corporations and foundations have been reached under the current appeal, directed by Robert H. Patch, Jr., 49, of Short Hills, in an effort to surpass last year's record-breaking mark of $2,800,000.

President Robert Goheen has said. "The general support for current efforts that Annual Giving Campaign of Princeton what enables Princeton in these years to meet educational costs to keep her special character — her vigor and independence — at a private institution, her commitment to the education of individuals and the development of leaders."

Other highlights of the meeting Saturday will be the presentations of the Woodrow Wilson Award and the M. Taylor Price Prize, the highest honors Princeton confers upon an alumni or graduate undergraduate, respectively.

1-WEEK END TO END
For Costa Rican Student. A three-week visit to Princeton will end on Friday for Eduardo Augusto Dorcia, a student from Costa Rica, who is living in the United States for three months as a participant in the World Youth Forum.
Eduardo, 16, who normally attends school in San Jose, has been going to classes in Princeton Day School and living with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clag, born Jr., 45, Valdersville, Ariz., who have two sons at PHS. He has been studying physics, mathematics and computer math, since he hopes to work in electronics, aerospace, nautical or space engineering.
Here on his "summer" vacation Eduardo admitted that he expected to find Americans unfriendly, but now says that "they make me feel like this is my home away from home." He added that American students require much more written work than he is used to in Costa Rica, where he was taking 12 courses.

Mr. Kennedy has served the hospital 25 years, and is now director of laundry and linen. He has been a member of the hospital as tax collector. A 20-year veteran will go to Mr. McKee, assistant administrator, for general services.

Successor Dr. Benjamin M. Wright as staff president, Dr. Burdfield joined Princeton Hospital staff in 1963. He is opening his practice at 21 Chambers Street. He graduated from Lafayette College in 1951 and earned his dental degree at the University of Pennsylvania. His office of dentistry is in 1963.

$1.2 MILLION GRANTED

To Lawrenceville Home. Approval by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of a $1,200,000 federal grant to the Morris Hall Home for the Aged in Lawrenceville has been announced.
The grant will help finance a four-story addition to the houses present building estimated at $2 million. The addition will contain 150 beds for post-hospital care.

Morris Hall by operated by the Catholic Welfare Bureau. The grant was awarded after an application by the Right Rev. Monsignor Theodore A. Connelley, Conception of the addition is expected to begin April 1.

AFS STUDENTS DUE HERE

For Four Days. Foreign students from 37 countries will visit the Princeton University campus this weekend in a program sponsored by the University's American Field Service Club. The purpose is to introduce the students to American higher education, about 100, are attending state and private schools, and living with American families under the AFS international scholarship program.

Arriving Thursday afternoon, the students will be taken to the main campus and the Forestal campus, and attend a series of social events with their hosts, all members of the university.

Highlights of their schedule will include a meeting with university president Robert F. Goheen, dinners with faculty, administration, and staff members, and a series of seven discussions, beginning with two student problems and activities.

About 90 undergraduates are involved in the program, which is organized by Lawrence W. Levine, a university junior and president of the group AFS club. Most of the campus and former participants in the AFS program.

MUSIC In Princeton

MIXED RECEPTION
For Concert in McCosh. How often does one hear a concert of Sessions, Mozart, Rabbitt and Brahms? On Monday evening, Paul Zukofsky, violinist and Yuji Takahashi, pianist, presented a recital consisting of works by these composers.

The concert took place at 19 McCosh Hall and was sponsored by the Princeton University Music Department. Mr. Zukofsky began the program with a performance of the D10 for Violin and Piano by Roger Sessions.

The work was composed in 1942. Considered avant-garde in its day, the music has lost none of its freshness and vitality. Both artists gave a strong and brilliant interpretation.

The four sections of the composition were shaped into one continuous movement of time. Mr. Zukofsky plays with suave tone and this quality was most attractive in the more romantic flowing lines of the Session composition. Mr. Takahashi demonstrated a precision of rhythm and maintained a consistency of rhythmic feeling throughout the final section that enabled the music's humor to be heard rather successfully.

The Sessions work proved to be the only remarkable aspect of the concert, however. The STUDY OF THE SQUARE: This familiar scene in the heart of Princeton is among the photographic essays on Nassau Street now on view at the First Presbyterian Church. The work of George A. Peterson, Princeton photographer, is included in the exhibit by members of the church's Photography Workshop. Sam Yamashiro is workshop director.

Mozart's "Sonata for Violin and Cello," admitting Babbitt's Piano in Eb, K302, was played well enough by Mr. Zukofsky, but Mr. Takahashi's keyboard work was astounding for its bad taste.

Legatos were nonexistent. So was the use of the pedal. Entrances were banged in a childishly staccato manner and tempos were inconsistent with Mozart's idiom.

The performance of Milton Babbitt's "Sextets" for Violin and Piano may have suffered from similar tempo problems. I personally received little impact from the music, a kind of "anti-music" if one is used to some sort of continuous linear texture.

The short, very very brief gasps of sound that emanate from this type of writing apparently has to be thoroughly understood structurally to be felt as an emotional experience. Perhaps this approach to composition sounds best on a stereo speaker system instead of at a "live" performance.

At any rate, the length of the composition seemed to nullify whatever interest the opening segments may have produced. Webers had the right idea. He wrote in a similar idiom but kept his movements brief, leaving his listeners puzzled, at first, but impressed enough to hear the music a second time.

A listener who insists on rhythmic flow for a reasonable period of time will have great

Stuart School welcomes visitors on Saturdays and Sundays from 2 to 5 through the weekend of March 3.

OLDS EXHIBIT ON VIEW
By Princeton Art. A group of oil paintings by Mrs. Constance Bonello, 54 Bayard Lane, is presently on exhibit at the Redwood Inn, Somerville, sponsored by the South Somerset Guild of Creative Arts.

The exhibit includes florals, still lifes, local scenes, and landscapes done in Italy last summer. It is open to the public through this month, on weekdays from 9 to 4:30.

Mrs. Bonello, a former art instructor in Princeton Day School, studied at the University of Turin. She now conducts classes for the Guild, located on Route 260, Belle Mead.

BARK ART ON DISPLAY
At Murray-Dodge Hall. An exhibit of Australian aboriginal "bark painting" is on display through March 31 at Murray-Dodge Hall on the Princeton University campus. The exhibit, sponsored by the University Chapel, is open to the public without charge each weekday from 9 to 5.

Bark painting is a primitive form of art that is known in the United States. The collection at Murray-Dodge was purchased from the Church Missionary Society of Australia by William McE. Miller Jr., a member of the Class of 1953, who is exhibiting it across the country.

To make their bark paintings, aborigines flattened a slab of bark from a eucalypt tree by placing large stones and logs under it to create a surface. The inner surface was used by the artist as his "canvas." His paints were natural colors ochres mixed with water and oil from swamp roots; his brush a chewed twig, lock of hair or roll of stringy bark.

SCHUBERT CONCERT SET
By University Glee Club. The University Glee Club, directed by Prof. Walter Nollner, will present a concert of major works for male chorus by Franz Schubert, to be held at 3:30 p.m., Sunday, in Alexander Hall.

The concert will include 12 arrangements of works by Schubert 1820 and 1828. Soloists will be Shirley Enmons, former soloist with the Robert Shaw Chorus, and William McGrath, former soloist with Arturo Toscanini. Student club conductors Roger Nierenberg and Robert Moreen will also participate.

Proceeds from the concert will be used to support a joint tour with the South College Glee Club in Europe this summer, which will include ten Continued on Page 34 and many show the struggle of man for survival and love. Some are with religious themes which are part of man's fate in this life.

Stuart School welcomes visitors on Saturdays and Sundays from 2 to 5 through the weekend of March 3.

OLDS EXHIBIT ON VIEW
By Princeton Art. A group of oil paintings by Mrs. Constance Bonello, 54 Bayard Lane, is presently on exhibit at the Redwood Inn, Somerville, sponsored by the South Somerset Guild of Creative Arts.

The exhibit includes florals, still lifes, local scenes, and landscapes done in Italy last summer. It is open to the public through this month, on weekdays from 9 to 4:30.

Mrs. Bonello, a former art instructor in Princeton Day School, studied at the University of Turin. She now conducts classes for the Guild, located on Route 260, Belle Mead.

BARK ART ON DISPLAY
At Murray-Dodge Hall. An exhibit of Australian aboriginal "bark painting" is on display through March 31 at Murray-Dodge Hall on the Princeton University campus. The exhibit, sponsored by the University Chapel, is open to the public without charge each weekday from 9 to 5.

Bark painting is a primitive form of art that is known in the United States. The collection at Murray-Dodge was purchased from the Church Missionary Society of Australia by William McE. Miller Jr., a member of the Class of 1953, who is exhibiting it across the country.

To make their bark paintings, aborigines flattened a slab of bark from a eucalypt tree by placing large stones and logs under it to create a surface. The inner surface was used by the artist as his "canvas." His paints were natural colors ochres mixed with water and oil from swamp roots; his brush a chewed twig, lock of hair or roll of stringy bark.

LENTEN EVENTS PLANNED
By Pastors and PCCU. Three weekly events will be held during Lent, co-sponsored by the Christian churches of Princeton through the Pastors' Association and the Princeton Christian Unity Committee.

On Tuesdays at noon a Lenten service will be a community service of Holy Communion in Trinity Episcopal Church. Each Wednesday evening there will be an ecumenical service in the auditorium of St. Paul's School. On Thursdays a community service will be held at noon in First Presbyterian Church.

The experimental communion service of the Episcopal Church will be used on Tuesday at Trinity. The service begins at 12:10 p.m., led by the Rev. Dr. Niles. Ministers from all Princeton churches. The inter-denominational communion is an innovation this year, and the sponsors invite all Christians to take part to whatever degree possible. Following the service, a light luncheon of soup and sandwich will be served at 12:30. The cost is 50¢.

The Wednesday lectures will be held at 2 p.m., featuring a prominent Roman Catholic or Protestant speaker. A lay volunteer responder, there will be a host pastor from a different Princeton church each evening. Time is allowed for free audience participation and questions. Registration is by entrance of the auditorium, begins at 7:15 p.m. nominal fee will be charged, with tickets available at the churches and at the auditorium. The women of St. Paul's will serve coffee after the lecture.

The Thursday Bible-paraphrase service series, which begins on February 28, is scheduled from noon until 12:30 p.m. in the past. The service will include hymns, scripture reading and a meditation given by members of the Pastors' Association. Child care will be available during the service and luncheon will be served from 12:30 to 1 for 1¢ by the women of the church.

SERVICES SCHEDULED
For Ash Wednesday. The 40-day penitential season of Lent begins next week with Ash Wednesday services in Princeton churches.

Ash Wednesday takes its name from the ancient custom of carrying to the palms that had been blessed on the Palm Sunday of the previous year. Here they were burnt and the ashes placed on the forehead, in the form of a cross. In the form of a cross they were reminded that man is dust and to dust he returns to dust. The Lenten fast commemorates Christ's fasting and preparation in the wilderness, and so serves as a preparation for the Christian Lenten fast day, Easter.

Services of Holy Communion will be held in Trinity Episcopal Church at 8:15 and 9:30 a.m. and at 7:45 p.m. Breakfast will follow the 7:15 a.m. service.

St. Paul's Catholic Church will distribute ashes at the 7:15 a.m. service. Masses at 8:15 and 9:30 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. Masses.

Messiah Lutheran Church will hold an Ash Wednesday service at 8 a.m. in the Chapel, Episcopal, has scheduled holy communion at 7 a.m. and 8:15 a.m. Breakfast will follow the 7 a.m. service.

DR. NILES TO SPEAK
At Princeton Seminary. The Rev. Dr. D. T. Niles, longtime general secretary of the East Asia Christian Conference and former secretary of the World Council of Churches' evangelism department, will deliver three evening lectures next week in the chapel of the Princeton Theological Seminary.

The "Wholeness of the Gospel" the theme of the three lectures, which form the Student Lectureship on Missions for the academic year.

Individual lectures, all scheduled for 7:30 p.m., are: Wednesday, February 28, "The Gospel and the Call to Wholeness"; Thursday, February 29, "Present Experience and Future Hope"; and Friday, March 1, "Traveling for the Gospel."

The Friday evening lecture will also be the James J. Reed Memorial Lecture for the current year. The lectureship was established in 1966 in memory of the Unitarian minister, a member of the Seminary's class of 1953, who was killed in the Selma, Ala., in 1965 while taking part in civil rights demonstrations. Previous Reed Lecturers have been the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., General Secretary of the World Council of Churches, and Roy Wilkins, head of the NAACP.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS:
The Rev. Dr. James H. Nichols, professor of history at Princeton Seminary, and his wife will be the resource people at the adult class discussion of "The Blackstone Rangers" at 10:10 this Sunday at First Presbyterian Church.

The Rangers, topic of an article in the February 15 issue of Princetonian's Life, are the radical effort on the part of a Presbyterian church to help the poor and the evening services in Kingston Presbyterian Church. The theme this year is "Bear One Another's Burden." Emphasis will be placed on community and world-wide concerns.

The Rev. F. Douglas Epps of Princeton, will be the migration leader at the 10 a.m. service of the World Council of Churches, the Rev. Richard A. Lucke, will be the speaker at this Friday's congregational supper.

The Rev. Dr. Goetting is an urban agent for Metropolitan Associates of Philadelphia. He will discuss efforts of the laity to take part in missionary action in the public institutions of the city, based upon his own experiences with the organization.

MAR is a group of 60 men, most of whom are laymen, who are trying to discover a form of public ministry in the business, government and social organizations of Philadelphia. The $116,000 annual project is financed by the American Baptists, Episcopalians, Lutherans, United Church and the National Council of Churches.

Happy Birthday George

PRETTY AND PRACTICAL

A true Colonial-style on a quiet
 Township street. Gracious entry hall, carpeted living room with fireplace, and den with oh-so-attractive low windows that bring the outdoors in.
 Formal dining room and a magnificent kitchen with plenty of space for the breakfast crowd. Four nice sized bedrooms, two and a half baths, full basement, two car garage. French doors in the dining room open to the private backyard and if the present owners could stay longer the patio would already be there.

A fine listing at $52,500

THERE'S A LONDONDERRY AIR: about this picturesque Tudor town house is a sublime Western Borough location. Built in the halcyon days of the late 20's, it has since been cleverly remodelled inside to accommodate two families. In the owner's quarters, a broad entrance hall with pegged oak floor opens to enormous step-down living room with high, beamed ceiling and elegant stone fireplace flanked by French doors to the terrace. Up a step into a grand dining room with its own fireplace and door to stone floored screened porch. A small study and modern kitchen complete the ground floor. Upstairs, there is a twin room and bath master suite with fitted closets, plus 4 more bedrooms and 4 baths. On the rented side (whose income more than pays for taxes and heating) there are entrance hall, living room with fireplace and bookcases, dining room, kitchen and powder room on the ground floor. Upstairs, 3 double bedrooms and 3 baths plus 3 single bedrooms. Full attic and cellar on both sides. 2 car attached garage. Beautiful grounds with old trees. Advertised here for the first time, $100,000

WESTERN SECTION BUILDING LOT: Slightly off the beaten track, this high, wooded two acre lot is in a prime, but somewhat unexpected, location. We think it represents an unusually fine value in today's land market. All city utilities and available immediately at $23,000

RETIREMENT HOUSE IN THE TREES: A wonderfully woody 3 1/4 acre with little required upkeep is the secluded Princeton Township setting for this sleek, modern one story. Entrance hall with indoor garden opens to highceiled, glass-walled living room with fireplace and dining ell. Deluxe kitchen, comfortable family room, 3 bedrooms and 2 1/2 baths, 3 shaded terraces, swimming pool. Carpeted and centrally air-conditioned. Attached two car garage. $59,500

MUCH HOUSE IN PRINCETON TOWNSHIP FOR $30,900. Newly painted one story with 15' x 22' living room with fireplace and long wooded views from a picture window, separate dining room, well-equipped kitchen with breakfast area, 3 bedrooms and 2 tiled baths. Large paneled playroom, laundry room, room, 2 car garage. Triple track sliding windows and screens. Available now, but probably not for long at this price.

We are offering two handsome properties for July occupancy which can be seen by appointment now.

In a central Borough location, a large Georgian brick house with center hall, living room, dining room, library, sunporch, kitchen, mahogany sitting room, laundry & laundry & large master bedrooms, three baths, 3 small maids rooms & bath, front and back stairs, expansion space over two-car garage and third floor. The lot is large planted with specimen trees & shrubs and sunken formal garden with boxwood & perennial beds. $95,000

In the Township on a quiet street in the western section with beautiful grounds, stately pines and outdoor heated pool, is an architect designed two-story brick and frame house with many attractive features. There is a gracious entrance with lavatory and a few steps to a lovely formal living room with fireplace and floor to ceiling windows which give abundant light and attractive outlook. Beyond is a cozy den with fireplace, full bath and dressing room, a brick floored hall with second stairway up and garden entrance. There is a dining room with terrace, ultra modern kitchen, pantry, maids bedroom, sitting room & bath. Upstairs is a master suite of two rooms and 2 baths, two other bedrooms and bath. $125,000

Another outstanding feature of Manning's expert workmanship on reupholstery work.

For the finest in slipcovers, draperies or reupholstery, look to Manning's quality... you'll be glad you did.
